MEDILL SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM IS DEDICATED

Noted Educators and Editors Talk.

BY EYE WITNESS.
The Joseph Medill School of Journalism of Northwestern university was dedicated to the public service last evening.

The classes begin work at 5 o'clock this afternoon.
The two sentences do not tell you of the staidness of the academic pageantry, the curiously mingled dignity and on-the-squareness of the utterances, and the hearty response of a large assemblage to those utterances, which marked the occasion, but they do tell you the kind of school the new foundation of Northwestern is.

The "Wedding" Performed.
Its plans have been formulated, its purposes made known, and, in the Rev. George Craig Stewart's phrase of invocation, "the wedding of the newspaper and the university performed."

Decidedly the ceremonies in Patten gymnasium on the Evanston campus had distinction. The setting was good. The people assembled beneath a canopy of green foliage that arched itself over many flags and lights. Above the speakers' platform hung a portrait of the editor for whom the school was named. Beneath it sat one of his two daughters, one of his grandsons, three presidents of American universities, editors, business functionaries of great newspaper properties, judges, educators, and men of affairs.

Scene Brilliant One.
There was the roll of music, the glow of the purple of chancellors' robes, and the flash of the scarlet of the deans' gowns. The flags, the roses, the academic ritual, the dignitaries—all that was fine and fitting. It was a pity that the hundreds of men working downtown on this morning's newspapers could not have seen it. They would have got a thrill of pride and happiness out of the picture, for it would have told them that the academic world is not aloof but with them.
But better than the resplendent pageantry was the voice. Things that had meaning were said cordially, earnestly, intimately. From Paris, London, and New York, from Florida, where the Marion editor is, from the lips of the editors and the three presidents on the platform there came to the 1,300 listeners sentences that gave them much besides empty phrases of felicitation.

No Trace of Buncombe.
There could hardly be a dedicatory ceremony in which less buncombe was uttered. They all talked about and for an institution they want to have men stand for better writing, better scholarship, better workmanship, and more spirituality.
They were very concrete.
"Faith, hope, and clarity," said David Kinley, president of the University of Illinois. "Faith—that is the church; hope—that is the school; clarity—that is the newspaper."
President Scott, too, wasted no words in defining the why of the school. He said:

"For centuries we have had in America schools of theology for training the leaders in the church. For decades we have had normal schools for training leaders in the schools. But only now are we beginning to establish schools of journalism to train the leaders for the press."
And later:
"Editors are cooperating because they believe the school will bring into the profession better trained men and women, that it will make some contribution to elevating the standard of the profession, and contribute to the ethical religious leadership of the press."

Northlife Sends Message.
From Printing House square the overlord of the Thunderer—Northcliffe of the London Times—wired a long message from which this sprang at you:
"Events of the last six years have widened and deepened channels of journalism and increased the demand for plots of public thought who know the waters far beyond the famous three mile limit of your eastern coast."
Embedded in the cablegram of Lannan of the Paris Matin was this:
"The journalist has but one ancestor—Diogenes."
From Petit Parisien Senator and Editor Paul Dupuy said to the students in the audience:

"As journalists you must remember always that you are the eyes, ears, and (Continued on page 4, column 1.)

Hunt Movie Extortion Ring

Graft Intrigue Traced in Odor Bombers' Raid

An investigation was launched yesterday by State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe into charges that motion picture theater owners have been "shaken down" for thousands of dollars through the use of "odor bombs."

Theater owners who refuse to sign contracts calling for payment of a fixed sum for "electrical maintenance" attacks it is charged.

Four such attacks were perpetrated on the south side Monday evening and hundreds of theater patrons were driven to the street.

Sam Rabinowitz, who owns the Marion theater at 3446 South Halsted street, said last night that a number of the smaller theater owners had been driven out of business by the bombers, while others were on the verge of bankruptcy because of inability to meet the demands.

The Marion theater was one of those visited by the bombers on Monday.

Demand Five Cents for Each Seat.
According to Sam Atkinson, secretary of the Allied Amusement association—an organization of all the larger movie theater owners and most of the smaller ones—a union business agent came to the association about two months ago and asked that the members sign contracts agreeing to pay five cents a seat monthly, according to the size of their theater, for "electrical maintenance."

"The contracts, to run for a year, are with an electrical company with offices in the loop," said Atkinson. "It is stipulated that the theater owners are to call upon that company only for all electrical maintenance work. The agreement is that the theater owner pays dues of 5 cents a seat per month and in return gets his electrical maintenance work done free. For the first six months all heavy work—that is, work taking more than an hour of a man's time—must be paid for at the rate of $12.50 an hour."

Smaller Owners Rebel.
He said all the larger theater owners—Lubliner & Trinz, Ascher Brothers, Balaban & Katz, and others—signed the contracts, but that the smaller theater owners refused to sign on the ground that the amount of their maintenance work did not justify the outlay.

It is estimated there are 240,000 motion picture seats in Chicago, which would represent a monthly toll of $12,000 if all the theater owners paid. Those theater owners who refused to sign, it is said, would have to pay from 7 to 10 cents a seat if they had their work done by any concern other than the one designated.

Bomb Victim Tells Story.
Louis Weil, proprietor of the Harper theater, which was "bombed" Saturday and Sunday nights, was one of those questioned by State's Attorney Crowe.

"A labor representative dropped in here last September and asked me to sign some sort of contract," said Weil. "But I told him he would have to take it up with my electrician. I didn't pay much attention to it, as I employ a member of the union. In fact, every day and Sunday nights, was one of those questioned by State's Attorney Crowe."

Resists; Is Bombed.
"They came here about three weeks ago and asked me to sign," Rabinowitz said. "I told them I couldn't afford it; that business was poor and I wasn't making enough profit to pay a 5 cent tax on the 235 seats in my place. They went away. A few nights later some body threw an odor bomb and drove all the patrons out of the theater."

Leo B. Salkin, manager of the Jackson Park theater, Stony Island avenue and Sixty-seventh street, which was bombed Saturday night, said he had been shown one of the contracts at a meeting of the Allied Amusement association two months ago.

"They explained it was for electrical maintenance and that I would save some dough by signing it," he said. "I told them I employed a union maintenance electrician, a member of local 134, and preferred to have a man who lived near the theater and could be reached quickly in an emergency. They said it was all right and I didn't pay any more attention to it. I don't know whether the bomb had anything to do with that or not."

Proprietors of the larger movie theaters refused to discuss the matter.

Former Chicago Rector Dies Suddenly in South

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 8.—The Very Rev. Frederick Du M. Devall, dean of St. Mary's cathedral, Episcopal church, died suddenly today following a stroke of apoplexy. Dr. Devall had been rector of churches in New Orleans, Baton Rouge, Palatka, Fla., Montgomery, Ala., and Chicago.

ROOMS LOOP FOR DAYS WITHOUT FOOD; ARRESTED

The second case within a week of a young man roaming the loop without food for days was found yesterday when Michael Labonte, 19 years old, approached Traffic Policeman John Condon, at State and Madison streets, and asked to be arrested.

Labonte said that he was wanted on the charge of not paying a $100 board bill. "Which is a rather ironical charge in my present condition," he informed the policeman.

The youth was taken to Central station where he was given sandwiches. While he ate the police communicated with Mrs. Leo Zisk, owner of a rooming house at 5128 North Claremont avenue, who obtained the warrant for Labonte's arrest.

A week ago a boy was found in the alley in rear of the Brevoort hotel. He was famished for lack of food. He said he had not eaten for four days.

GERMANS MAY REFUSE FRENCH, BRITISH GOODS

BERLIN, Feb. 8.—The Hansa League, the largest economic association in Germany, announces that many members urge a boycott of the French and English in favor of goods from America and neutrals. If Great Britain continues to support France in the reparations claims the directors of the league will examine into the suggestions and adopt the measures it thinks advisable.

Chicago on Way to Become Most Popular Birthplace

Babies are choosing Chicago as their home city at a rate which is scheduled to make the 1921 birth rate the highest in the city's history.

In January 4,325 babies were born in Chicago. Deaths numbered 3,066, leaving a balance on the living side of the ledger of 1,259. In January of last year there were 4,247 births and 3,149 deaths. The flu epidemic was at its height at that time.

N. U. Students on Trail of "Cribber" at Exams

Students at Northwestern university will today attempt to discover the name of the student, a member of the Gun and Blade club, a student organization, who "cribbed" at a recent examination. Edward R. Paul, president of the club and a senior, said the student will be questioned and if the "cribbing" charge is substantiated he will be asked to leave the school.

DRY RAID DIMS LIGHTS FOR 2,000

Kills Joy at the Brightest South Side Corner.

Just a piece of old Broadway was the corner of the three cabarets at Fifty-fifth and Lake Park avenue.

Every window blazed with light. Strains from jazz orchestras came through the swinging doors of the saloons.

Scores of automobiles swung up to the Blackstone buffet, dropped their heavy watered occupants, and joined the waiting cars parked outside. The other cabarets were also doing a rushing business.

At least 2,000 persons were dancing joyously to the strains of "Sweet Mamma" or clinking their glasses in good fellowship at the crowded tables when three mud sprinkled cars were driven into the blaze of light.

Good Table, Gargoyl.

Three groups of four men each alighted and entered the cabarets. The head waiter of each was summoned.

"We want a good table," said one of the group that entered the Blackstone buffet.

"And now a little something to drink," said another, when a table had been found. "It's a beastly night outside."

The waiter hurried toward the kitchen. Quickly he opened the door of the icebox. Stretched on the ice was a juicy porterhouse steak. Beside it a great lobster moved nervously, stirred possibly by a vision of a pot of boiling water. But the waiter explored the depths of the box with a gloved hand. Then some one touched him on the back of his shiny coat.

"Never mind," said a voice, "we'll find it all right. We're dry agents, sent here by Joe Killaham."

Proprietors Arrested.

Two minutes later Harry Briggs and George Hassel, the owners, had been arrested and six quarts of whiskey separated from the steaks and lobsters. A quantity of moonshine also was found. The agents did not molest the guests, but when they left they took all the waiters, owners, and servants, so the place had to be closed. The guests were ordered to leave. Many started for the other two saloons on the corner, but were met by disgusted guests.

navy in the places where once lurked the submarines that sunk our ships and endangered the commerce and the life of the nation.

"They won't get it."

"And if they do not get it we are told they will kill our policemen and our soldiers—not fighting openly, but from ambush. The men who uphold our honor will be shot down from homes, by innocent appearing farmers who pass on their way to the hiding place of their weapons, the very very policemen they have marked for murder—and pass unharmed because they appear innocent men."

"Nations Drunk with Liberty."

"There is an issue. Are we to allow this independent nation set up under our noses? Are we to allow our soldiers to be murdered and do nothing about it? That is the issue, I know of no other. There is none about Gladstonian home rule."

Referring to the general world situation—still without specifying the danger he declared threatened the world—the premier said:

"New nations are rising up as though it were resurrection morning. They are being dated by the new light—drunken with liberty. It is a terrible problem. Gigantic events are in the making. Such is the condition of the world today."

GERMANS' PLOT TO WRECK SHIP JUST REVEALED

New York, Feb. 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—A German war plot that failed was revealed here today. In making engine repairs for the force of Commander R. D. Gatewood, in charge of construction and repairs for the shipboard, found the ship's former crew, who were Germans, had cut two-thirds of the way through the four inch bolts that connected the engine with the main crankshaft. The cuts remained hidden by the fittings of the engine.

The Mount Vernon had been used as a troop ship, carrying 3,000 to 4,000 Yanks each trip, and had several narrow escapes. Once it was torpedoed and 45 of the crew killed, but it reached a French port.

The Mount Vernon formerly was the Kronprinzessin Cecilie, the famous "gold ship" that raced into Bar Harbor in the early days of the war.

KING OF ENGLAND AWARDS MEDALS TO YANK HEROES

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

LONDON, Feb. 8.—The King of England today awarded gold medals for gallantry to humanity to six American surfmen of Coastguard Station No. 179, at Rodanthe, North Carolina, who on Aug. 16, 1918, rescued the surviving members of the crew of the British vessel Mirio, which was torpedoed by the Germans seven miles off the coast.

The men on whom the medals were conferred are: John A. Midgett, Zion S. Midgett, Arthur V. Midgett, P. L. O'Neil, Leroy S. Midgett, Clarence E. Midgett, John A. Midgett, the keeper of the station, also was awarded a piece of silver plate by the London board of trade.

ITALIAN POLICE RAID PLANT, FIND GREAT ARSENAL

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

MILAN, Feb. 8.—The police last night occupied the Glanerio metallurgical factory at Turin after it had been disclosed that instead of manufacturing typewriters the plant was producing machine guns, revolvers and rifles. After a search the police found a large stock of finished weapons and many spare parts.

Carlo Cagliasso, the director of the plant, and several workmen were arrested. The factory is now surrounded by the police. It has not been learned to whom the arms were to be delivered.

Davis, Ready to Leave London, Talks with Geddes

LONDON, Feb. 8.—John W. Davis, American ambassador to the court of St. James, who has asked President Eliot Harding to relieve him immediately after the inauguration, and who has arranged to sail for the United States March 5, had a long conversation this morning with Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States, regarding Anglo-American relations.

James A. Hool Has His Divorce Suit Dismissed

Yesterday, two days after Judge Kichan Scanlon had awarded Mrs. Louise M. Hool temporary alimony of $500 a month and the custody of her baby son pending the hearing of the divorce bill filed by James A. Hool, wealthy real estate man, the latter had his suit dismissed. Neither he nor his attorneys could be reached. In his bill Hool alleged that his wife had treated him cruelly.

NO BRITISH WAR CLOUDS HANGING OVER U. S.—COLBY

London Cassandra Not Feeling Well, Belief.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—(Special.)—The prospect of war between Britain was treated with scoffing in administration circles and at the capitol today.

Nevertheless, state department officials and senate foreign relations committee members showed deep interest in London dispatches quoting a British official high in the foreign office as stating that the path now being followed in Anglo-American relations would lead to war.

Senators did not question the authenticity of the dispatches. They took the view that the outbreak of the British government official as reported in the press cables was caused probably by irritation and indignation in England over Secretary of the Treasury Houston's blunt announcement that no further negotiations for refunding America's $10,000,000 loans to the allied governments would be conducted by the present administration.

British Disappointed.

"Naturally the British feel somewhat disappointed," said a leading member of the foreign relations committee, "but, of course, they are not going to war with us, nor will we go to war with them just because they owe us $4,000,000,000. Undoubtedly the new administration will enter into some arrangements with them so that they will have ample time to pay off their debt."

The secrecy of the administration regarding the refunding negotiations was not relaxed in any way today. Secretary Houston was to have appeared before the foreign relations committee, but he became ill. It may be several days before he can appear.

"The report as it reaches me," Secretary Colby said, referring to the London dispatch, "seems utterly preposterous. I cannot credit it."

Mr. Colby asserted that he did not regard the relations of this government with the British government as being strained.

The impression gathered at the state department was that the incident had been the subject of an inquiry addressed to the American embassy in London. One high state department official said of the English official alleged to be responsible for the reported alarming interview:

"Maybe he will feel better tomorrow."

Geddes to Talk "Holiday."

The return to America of Sir Auckland Geddes with proposals of the British government for a world conference on disarmament, reported tonight from London, causes no surprise in informed circles here.

It was known here when the ambassador was suddenly called to London that the main purpose of his mission was to discuss the disarmament question with the government of the United States. It was also known that the object of giving it a clear idea of the sentiment and intention of the government, congress, and people of America, so that the course of Great Britain might be determined in the light of full information.

That his report impressed the British government so strongly that it is ready to make definite proposals for bringing about world disarmament is not doubted here, where the tendency is to credit the statement printed in a London afternoon newspaper and cable to this country.

May Send Root Abroad.

While the intentions of Mr. Harding with respect to disarmament are not fully known, it is the understanding in Washington that the first step will be to request Elihu Root to go to Europe to discuss disarmament with the principal powers and also to sound them with reference to the formation of an association of nations so constituted as to permit the affiliation of the United States.

BRITISH PRESS SURPRISED

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

LONDON, Feb. 8.—The British press is expressing surprise that Austen Chamberlain's reference to proposals to cancel the British debt to America has caused "irritation" in America and hastens to explain that Mr. Chamberlain simply was stating a fact and had no idea of reviving the proposal.

The London Times said today:

"We suggested that America lend directly to France and Italy instead of lending to them through us. She preferred to have British security for her loans. We gladly acceded to her wish and gave in to her. We shan't go back on our word."

Belgium Faces Deficit of 4,500,000,000 Francs Now

BRUSSELS, Feb. 8.—The minister of finance introduced the budget in the chamber of deputies today. It totals more than 9,500,000,000 francs. It shows a deficit of 4,500,000,000 francs. The expenditures for reconstruction will amount to nearly 3,000,000,000 francs.

SHOPGIRL VENUSES

Beauties! Beauties! The city is full of them. The Lane Bryant company entered its girl employees in the Coliseum all-American beauty contest yesterday with the promise that if they don't win the prize they will still be thought the prettiest. The girls, left to right—Evelyn Bendelt, Evelyn Cohn, Irene Hanson, Georgia Brobst, Rose McCauley, Ethel Phillips, and Gabriella Olson.

and our commercial interest as well as our commercial honor forbids us to discredit our paper."

Then, discussing two classes of debts, England's debt to America and the allies' debt to Great Britain, the Times concludes:

"Nobody can foretell how soon the allies can be paying us, but no English statesman can talk of remitting any part of these debts until full arrangements have been made regarding repayment of our debt to America."

JAP FOR NAVAL RECESS

TOKIO, Feb. 8.—Yukio Ozaki, a former leader of the Kensei-Kai, or opposition party, told the Associated Press this morning he would today introduce independently before the diet a resolution proposing curtailment of naval armament.

His resolution, he said, would ask Japan to communicate with the United States and England, and to decide on the best way to restrict naval programs in conjunction with those nations. M. Ozaki was expelled from the Kensei-Kai last Friday because he had not supported a suffrage bill urged by that organization.

HE ASKS "WHERE IS MY WANDERING HOUSE TONIGHT?"

Wonder what a wandering house thinks about:

"I've been on this side long enough. Guess I'll stroll around and see if I can find a more aristocratic location."

A three story frame building belonging to J. Van Winkle of 1132 Normal avenue has disappeared from its foundation at 4708 Westworth avenue. Mr. Winkle reported the loss to the Stockyards police. He said the building had been vacant for some time. Yesterday a French prospective purchaser looked at the house. When they got there the lot was bare.

Mr. Van Winkle told the police he suspected Henry Krug Jr., son of the head of Henry Krug & Sons Winery company. Van Winkle has had some trouble with young Krug, he said, and neighbors say the last they saw of the house it was going south in Westworth avenue in wagons bearing the name of the Krug company.

QUEBEC DRAFTS LAW FOR SALE OF HARD LIQUOR

Quebec, Feb. 8.—The full provisions of the proposed Quebec liquor law became known today when the measure prepared by the government was distributed in printed form to the members of the provincial legislature.

Under the act the sale of liquor after May 1 will be vested in a commission of five persons, who will constitute a corporation and enjoy all the rights and powers belonging generally to corporations. Members of this commission "shall follow no other occupation whatever." It will enjoy the exclusive right to this trade.

The act will not suspend laws in other municipalities where the temperance act is in force.

Bandits Shoot Druggist When He Refuses Whisky

Roscoe C. Stubbs, owner of a drug store at 3756 Cottage Grove avenue, was shot and seriously wounded early this morning when he refused to give three colored bandits the key to a store room in which there were seven cases of whisky.

The bandits dashed up in an automobile they had stolen from Walter Hagerdorn, 7608 Marquette road. After rifling the cash register they took the whisky, valued at $500, and sped away.

Belgium Faces Deficit of 4,500,000,000 Francs Now

BRUSSELS, Feb. 8.—The minister of finance introduced the budget in the chamber of deputies today. It totals more than 9,500,000,000 francs. It shows a deficit of 4,500,000,000 francs. The expenditures for reconstruction will amount to nearly 3,000,000,000 francs.

Building was not entirely at a standstill in Oak Park last year, according to permits issued by the village government, which aggregated more than $2,000,000.

FOREIGN NEWS IN BRIEF

TOKIO.—Although the Japanese press is silent, Vladivostok papers openly predict war between Siberia and Japan.

BERLIN.—Germany accepts alliance invitation to meet in London, March 1, and plans to submit counter proposals on reparations.

DUBLIN.—Fire reprisals by the British reported from Galway, Limerick and Tipperary counties. Many farmhouses burned.

PARIS.—As a result of disclosure by The Tribune correspondent at Berlin of the acts of the communist congress at Bremen, French secret police are forcing an international force to combat Red propaganda.

LONDON.—The loyalists, headed by Gen. Smuts, former Boer leader, were victorious in the election of the South African union. The opposition party favored setting up a republic.

GERMANY READY TO MEET ALLIES AND TALK TERMS

BERLIN, Feb. 8.—Dr. Walter Simons, foreign minister, today handed to the French chargé d'affaires the following note announcing the German government's acceptance of the invitation to take part in the approaching conference in London on reparations:

"With reference to the conversations between the French ambassador and the German foreign minister, the German government accepts the invitation conveyed to it by the ambassador and will, on March 1, send qualified delegates to London, provided negotiations are based on proposals which the German government reserves to itself the right to lay before the conference."

Loucheur Answers Klotz.

PARIS, Feb. 8.—There are only 23,000,000 francs in gold available in the world today, it was pointed out this afternoon in the chamber of deputies by Louis Loucheur, minister of liberated regions, in answering an interpellation by Louis Klotz, former minister of finance, with regard to the German reparations agreement which was recently reached by the allies.

"Therefore," asked M. Loucheur, how can France collect 216,000,000,000 francs in gold immediately?

"We have followed the best course," said the minister. "The payment of annuities by Germany is the only solution, and we have chosen that. Let the parliament decide the right of it."

Total French Claims.

[The total of France's claims for damage sustained at the hands of Germany during the war have been placed by French public men at a sum in excess of 200,000,000,000 francs. Only a part of France's claims were represented in the total of 226,000,000,000 francs demanded of Germany in annuities by the combined allied nations in the reparations bill recently presented. Additional amounts in reparations payments were provided for by the 12 percent tax on German exports.]

The chamber of deputies adjourned this evening until Wednesday afternoon at which time Andre Tardieu, former high commissioner to the United States, will resume his interpellations on German reparations.

American, 2 Italians, and Spaniard to Get Red Hats

ROME, Feb. 8.—The new cardinals who are to be created at the coming consistory will include one American, probably two Italians and one Spaniard. Mr. Karl Joseph Schulte, archbishop of Cologne, and Dr. Faulhaber, archbishop of Munich will be given the red hat.

BRITISH READY TO REBEL AT WAR, GIBBS TELLS U. S.

Long for Disarmament Conference.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—(Special.)—A call by the United States for a conference of nations to determine on limitation of armament would be welcomed by the masses of Great Britain, Sir Philip Gibbs, English author and editor of Review of Reviews, London, today told the house naval affairs committee.

The invitation should be extended to Russia and to Germany, he said. "The nations of Europe cannot disarm so long as the menace of the Russian Red army and disturbed conditions exist in Germany," he declared.

Sir Philip Gibbs has traveled extensively through the United States recently on a lecture tour. He came before the committee at the invitation of Chairman Butler.

No Naval Race with United States.

Starting out his testimony with a declaration that he has seen nothing in this country to lead him to believe there exists here any unbridled desire for Great Britain, Sir Philip announced that England would not run a race with this country for dominance of sea power.

"There has been some talk in England of the great navy to be built by the United States

WILSON REGIME PASSES BUCK ON CHINA FINANCES

Harding's Door.

BY J. B. POWELL.

The Tribune's correspondent in Shanghai, who is temporarily in Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—The Wilson administration is planning to pass on to the tender mercies of the Harding family a number of legislative infants, and among these children of the Democratic regime is the China consortium.

The China consortium was born at Paris during the trying days of the peace conference and constitutes America's second attempt at altruistic international finance with the intention of assisting her sister republic on the other side of the Pacific ocean.

It will be remembered by some that in the Taft administration, a group of European nations originated this idea of helping China (at so much per head) and they left America out of the scheme.

American financiers who were interested also in the Far East didn't care to be left out in the cold, so they exerted pressure on Washington and America "horned" into the international group, the other members being Great Britain, Germany, France, Russia, Belgium and later Japan.

Along Come Wilson Regime.

Well, America got in and then came along the Wilson administration, with Mr. Bryan at the helm of the ship of state.

Suddenly and without previous warning Mr. Bryan notified Wall street that he couldn't for a moment consider American participation in this sinister scheme for making China another colony of Europe. The American bankers with as much grace as they could muster under the circumstances withdrew and the old consortium died.

Then came the peace conference and the new China consortium—not the old one resurrected, but an entirely new one on American lines. Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan & Co. was requested by the state department to form an American group of banks, and Great Britain, France and Japan were requested to form groups in their countries.

The American group consists of thirty-seven separate banks located in New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, New Orleans, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Portland and Seattle.

How Things Stand Now.

The status of the consortium at the close of the Wilson administration is about this:

The formal agreement of the four powers for participation in the China financing scheme was signed by representatives of the four groups in New York on Oct. 15, 1919. It has not yet been made public, but the preamble of the agreement states that the four groups are to have the complete support of their respective governments and that the belief exists that the best interests of China can be served by the four powers working in unison and that the various groups are to participate in financial enterprises on equal terms in the establishment of great public utilities in China and that the cooperation of Chinese capital is welcomed.

The agreement provides for the admission of other groups from other countries and especially invites the cooperation of a group of Chinese banks.

The consortium agrees to confine its activities to works of a public character and not to invade the field of manufacturing or private enterprise. Concessions upon which substantial progress has already been made need not necessarily come within the scope of the foreign bankers in this agreement.

Plan Is Made Elastic.

Any special group not desiring to participate in the consortium may stay out and any group or groups not desiring to make an issue of bonds in its own market may request the other groups to include its share in their own issue.

Previous to the signing of this agreement, Mr. Lamont of Morgan & Co. made an extensive visit in China and Japan and after many difficulties was able to induce Japan to come into the undertaking on an even basis with America, Great Britain and France.

Met Jap Opposition.

Previous to this Japan had been blocking things by demanding that all of Manchuria and Mongolia be exempted from the operation of the consortium. He not only represented the American group of banks, but was also the official spokesman of the British and French bankers.

In this way he was enabled to exert considerable pressure upon the consortium to break down the "sphere of influence" controlled by the various nations in China.

This naturally put him in direct opposition to Japanese policy in China which is to make Korea, Mongolia, Shantung Province and Fukien Province Japanese territory in the same manner that Korea was brought into the Japanese Empire. Frederick W. Stevens of Michigan is now in China as the official representative of the American banks.

So naturally we now come to the Harding administration, and every American interested in the east and the whole Chinese republic as well as asking the question: What will Harding do with the consortium?

Senator Harding's Views.

Previous to his election Senator Harding made at least two campaign speeches in which he dealt with China and especially the decision of the peace conference (sponsored by President Wilson) by which Japan takes her

A COURT LADY WITH QUEEN OF REX BALL

MISS ELIZABETH CHASE.

WASHINGTON NEWS —IN BRIEF—

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 8.—The senate foreign relations committee asks Secretary Colby for Morris Shidehara agreement. Colby is undecided whether to comply.

In administration circles and at the capitol the reported warning of an unnamed British official that Anglo-American relations were on the path to war was not regarded seriously today, officials declining to consider the possibility of war with England.

British would welcome America's invitation to join in disarmament, Sir Philip Gibbs, author and war correspondent, told the house naval affairs committee today.

Reorganization plans of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad approved by the interstate commerce commission. The road has been in receivership since 1913.

Cables to bureau of foreign and domestic commerce show unsatisfactory business and financial conditions in all parts of the world. A slight improvement is noted in the orient.

The Tribune's Far Eastern expert analyzes the Chinese consortium which he terms a legislative infant left on the doorstep by the Wilson administration.

the former German rights in Shantung Province. In one of his addresses the Senator said that America would never sign the peace treaty and league covenant unless there was inserted a reservation on the Shantung question. This reservation has already been adopted by the United States senate, the specific wording being that America reserves freedom of action and will not bind herself to guarantee Japan in Shantung.

Republicans to Carry On.

Recently when the writer discussed this problem with one of the officials of the state department, closely in touch with far eastern affairs, this official made the statement:

"Well, the Republicans are practically bound to carry on with the consortium, because it is their baby."

He meant by this that it was a Republican-made statement. If we accept the suggestion carried in this statement, we find that practically every constructive diplomatic measure of assistance to China has been a Republican policy.

At the present time we have a bill in congress with strong prospects of passage which will place American business men in China on an even footing with the British and French under our extraterritorial treaty with China.

This measure is known as the China trade act and is being pushed in the house by Congressman Dyer of Missouri and in the upper branch by Senator Jones of Washington, both Republicans.

The bill has the approval of the committees on ways and means and the judiciary of the house and is now on the calendar for a vote provided it is not lost in the shuffle of the last few days of the session.

Want America on the Job.

The chief problem now, as most far eastern observers view it, is for America to be strictly on the job in the East and with our influence with Great Britain and France, see that those nations stand with us at every step in the preservation of China.

If we pursue the right policy now we can so strengthen China that only a few years will be necessary for that nation to cope with Japanese aggressions, and also with anything that may grow out of the present bolshevik regime in Russia.

Leviathan May Be Restored
Soon to Overseas Trade

New York, Feb. 8.—Restoration to overseas commercial trade of the 50,000 ton passenger liner Leviathan, the largest ship afloat, soon will be considered by the United States shipping board, it was learned today.

The craft is costing the shipping board approximately $45,000 a month for upkeep.

SIBERIAN PRESS PROPHECIES WAR WITH JAPANESE

Vladivostok Journals
Blame Reds.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.)

TOKIO, Feb. 8.—Although the vernacular press here is silent regarding a possible Siberian war, the Siberian papers are much occupied with the subject.

Vladivostok papers, since Feb. 1, are openly predicting a clash with Japan in the near future and are devoting much attention to an alleged statement at Port Arthur by Gen. Ogata during a banquet in honor of Gen. Semenov to the effect that in case of renewed hostilities in the trans-Baikal region Japan would undertake "some positive steps."

Blame Reds for Unrest.
The Harbin Russian press declares that the bolsheviks are forcing hostilities, while the Vladivostok press, with the exception of the Vladivostok Japan, a Japanese organ, declares that Japan is the aggressor.

The Vladivostok papers are busy preparing to invade Manchuria and Korea and to sweep all opposed to them from the maritime provinces.

The Veche, the organ of the cadets, concludes that both sides want war and that "there is no reason for supposing that a conflict can be avoided."

Siberia Easy Prey?
The paper declares that Siberia is regarded as easy booty by certain circles in Japan, who are anxious to get their share. There are many reasons why the Communists should check aggressive tendencies against Japan, it says, and they should remedy the complete internal disorganization now existing.

The Socialist paper Golos Rodin believes that Japan will hesitate before creating further complications in Siberia which would probably react with the Japanese entente with Gen. Semenov.

Spanish Woman May Clear
Mrs. Peete, Latest Rumor

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 8.—(Special.)—Word from a Denver detective that the "Spanish woman," often mentioned in the Denton murder case, could be produced to tell her story, is believed to have led Public Defender Aggeler to ask more time before arguing for a new trial for Mrs. Louise L. Peete, Mrs. Peete, convicted recently of the murder of Jacob Charles Denton, was to be sentenced today, if her motion for a new trial was denied. Delay until Feb. 16, however, was granted to enable the defense to prepare for the presentation of "new evidence."

MRS. MARSHALL FIELD III., QUEEN OF THE BALL.

Mystery Queen Revealed at Pre-Lenten Fete of Society as—O, Try to Guess!

Numerous "good scouts" danced out Shrove Tuesday and ushered in Ash Wednesday at the Congress for the benefit of the Girl Scouts of Cook county. The balcony boxes were filled with the crème de la crème of society, and mingling happily on the dance floor was the younger element.

There wasn't the usual early exit of the elders for home firesides, either. Mrs. Samuel T. Chase and her press agents had roused curiosity to the highest pitch by their secrecy regarding the identity of the king and queen of Mardi Gras.

Nary an inkling as to the identity of their majesties was given until a few minutes before 11 o'clock, when Miss Mary Reid and Miss Virginia Fitzhugh, attired as pages in gay costumes of purple, green and gold, announced the approach of royalty with blasts on their silver bugles.

Triolist blasts were, for the pages, though obliging, had been notified too late to become efficient buglers.

Their Royal Majesties.
The dancing stopped. The king and queen, both masked, appeared with their maids and dukes. The spotlight picked up the king. He removed his mask, and revealed himself as Paul E. Gardner.

Then the lights fell on the queen. She removed her mask, solving the secret that has kept society guessing for three weeks.

Mrs. Marshall Field III. was the queen. She never looked handsomer than she did last night in her royal robes, consisting of a gown of white lace, a mantle of cloth of gold embroidered with rhinestones in a fleur de lis design, jewels fit for a queen, including a gorgeous diamond tiara. Rex wore black satin knee breeches, a gold crown and a red velvet mantle edged with ermine.

The Court.
The maids of the queen's court, Countess Bolognesi, Miss Mary Landon Baker, Mrs. Arthur G. Cable, Mrs. Loring W. Coleman, Mrs. William E. Clow Jr., Miss Edith Cummings, Mrs. Charles W. Lohdell, and Mrs. William H. Mitchell II., wore white satin gowns with court trains of scarlet velvet and pearl coronets. The dukes were Lester Armour, Jay Morse Ely, Robert A. Gardner, James C. Hutchins, Howard Linn, I. Newton Perry, John A. Stevenson, and James Ward Thorne.

To remind the guests of the organization they were aiding, two Girl Scouts sold programs at the door. Mrs. Chase estimated that the proceeds would amount to about $5,000.

Among Those Present.
Some of those who attended were Mr. Field, Miss Elizabeth Chase, Samuel T. Chase, Mr. and Mrs. Preston Boyden, Mrs. Paul E. Gardner, Mrs. Lester Armour, Miss Theodora Winterbotham, Mr. and Mrs. Laird Bell, Mr. and Mrs. David Adler, Mr. and Mrs. John Root, Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Cramer, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Schwarz, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Coleman, Howard F. Gillette, Mrs. Benjamin F. Ayer, Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Winterbotham, Mr.

and Mrs. William A. Yager, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Sage, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McBirney Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Evan Evans, Mrs. Ralph Edmunds.

Miss Eleanor Holden, Miss Florence Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Ford R. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Anderson, John V. Sloan, Theodore B. Hineckley, Waldo Logan, McNaile Igenfritz, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Ryerson, Mrs. Jacob Baur, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Roy McWilliams, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus S. Peabody, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Tyson, Mr. and Mrs. D. Mark Cummings, and Miss Ethel Wrenn.

Many of the guests attended the concert at the Drake for the Alliance Française before the ball.

Wilson Cuts Prison Terms

New York, Feb. 8.—President Wilson has commuted the sentences of four Russians, Jacob Abrams, Samuel Lipman, Hyman Lachowsky, and Mollie Steiner, from fifteen to twenty years in prison to two years and six months on condition that they then be deported to Russia, Harry Weinberger, their attorney, announced here today.

The Russians, who confessed they were anarchists, have one more year to serve in prison, as they already have served about one year and a half.

South Africans

Gen. Smuts' Party Wins
Victory at Polls.

LONDON, Feb. 8.—[By the Associated Press.]—In the returns from the South African election thus far received, the South African party, headed by Gen. Jan Christian Smuts, has elected twenty-three candidates, the Laborites three, the Nationalists two, and the Independents one. A feature of the election was the defeat by the Smuts candidate of Frederick H. Crosswell, the Labor leader.

Broadly, the question was whether South Africa, comprising the provinces of the Cape of Good Hope, Natal, Transvaal, and Orange Free State, would continue its allegiance to the king of England as one of the self-governing dominions of the empire, or whether the South African union would set up as an independent republic.

Smuts Leads Loyalists.
At the head of the Loyalist section of the South African population of approximately 6,000,000 is Gen. Smuts, now prime minister of the union. He is better known to the world as one of the leading advocates of the league of nations. Opposed to him was Gen. Hertzog, also a former Boer military leader.

Gen. Hertzog's opinion is said to have been expressed in a speech when he declared for South Africa's right to secede from the British empire. In spite of the act of union, he is quoted, South Africans have the right to alter their constitution to gain independence.

If the king should refuse to alter the constitution, he would be approached again and again and in the end he would be convinced that it was better to have an independent friend than a dependent enemy.

Liberal Rule for India.
LONDON, Feb. 8.—[By the United Press.]—A more liberal form of self-government was put into effect in India today. With the arrival of Prince Arthur of Connaught at Delhi, as the emperor's personal representative, a royal proclamation was issued, formally announcing the surrender of much government power to the native princes.

King George asked for a spirit of mutual trust and cooperation to govern their conduct of affairs and pledged that the dignities and privileges of the native princes would be maintained without impairment.

Pointed out as possibly resulting in further surrender of Britain's control over her territory were rumors of peace to be negotiated with Ireland.

WHITE WILL NOT
CALL MEETING OF DEMOCRATS

New York, Feb. 8.—[Special.]—George White, chairman of the Democratic national committee, has no intention of calling a meeting of the committee for March 1 as requested by forty-nine members. It was rumored today that the man most active in trying to bring about a reorganization of the committee was William G. McAdoo.

Chairman White, who was in New York today, said he saw no reason for an early meeting, but would sound sentiment among the members.

The chairman denied he had told National Committeeman Thomas Love of Texas last November that he was ready to resign.

"I did not make any such remark, even if I thought it," he said. "As a matter of fact, things have changed somewhat since then. My business is digging oil wells, and the demand for petroleum has dropped 50 per cent recently. As a result I have plenty of time. I see no great haste, however, for a reorganization meeting. In my judgment it will be better to let things alone for the present."

MEDILL SCHOOL OF JOURNALISM IS DEDICATED

Prominent Educators and Editors Speak.

longue of millions who depend upon you to see, hear, and speak for them."

Word from Harding.

And Warren Harding told them why the Marion Star is a success when he touched on his thirty-six years in Ohio journalism.

"I send my cordial greetings to the students in the Medill school of journalism and wish them the achievement of stamping their individuality on their profession and their work as Joseph Medill left his impress on a great journalistic achievement. Nothing surpasses the possibilities for service that are vested in a great journal commanding the public confidence. That confidence is won through a soul in one's work and good conscience in every utterance."

Turns Over School.

Joseph Medill Patterson, on behalf of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, which is associated with the university in the founding of the school, surrendered it formally to the university authorities. Like Arthur Brisbane of the Hearst newspapers, like President Judson of the University of Chicago, he was very human. The surrender was complete and in disclosing the terms of the foundation Mr. Patterson said:

"President Scott made two stipulations—that he would take our money and that he wouldn't take our advice if he didn't want it."

The audience knew Scott and it shouted with relishing laughter.

Mr. Patterson paid his tribute to Eddie Doherty, the reporter. The school was Doherty's idea, he said. For months amid midnights in the office and in academic halls he had worked on the idea and nursed it, and made it take form and substance until editors and presidents took respectful notice. At last he won. As our chief said: "He came in with his story," which means, in the argot of our profession, to win against odds, to deliver, to make good.

Doherty is in Mexico now or he would have been in that hall—writing this story, which would have been better.

Mr. Patterson continued: "This school is started just as free as any school ever started."

"It was not started as a memorial. It was a growing, vital institution before its name was chosen. We are glad and proud that the name it bears was chosen because the name of a man whose record was long and honorable has been given to a school whose record, we believe, will be long and honorable."

Differences Pointed Out.

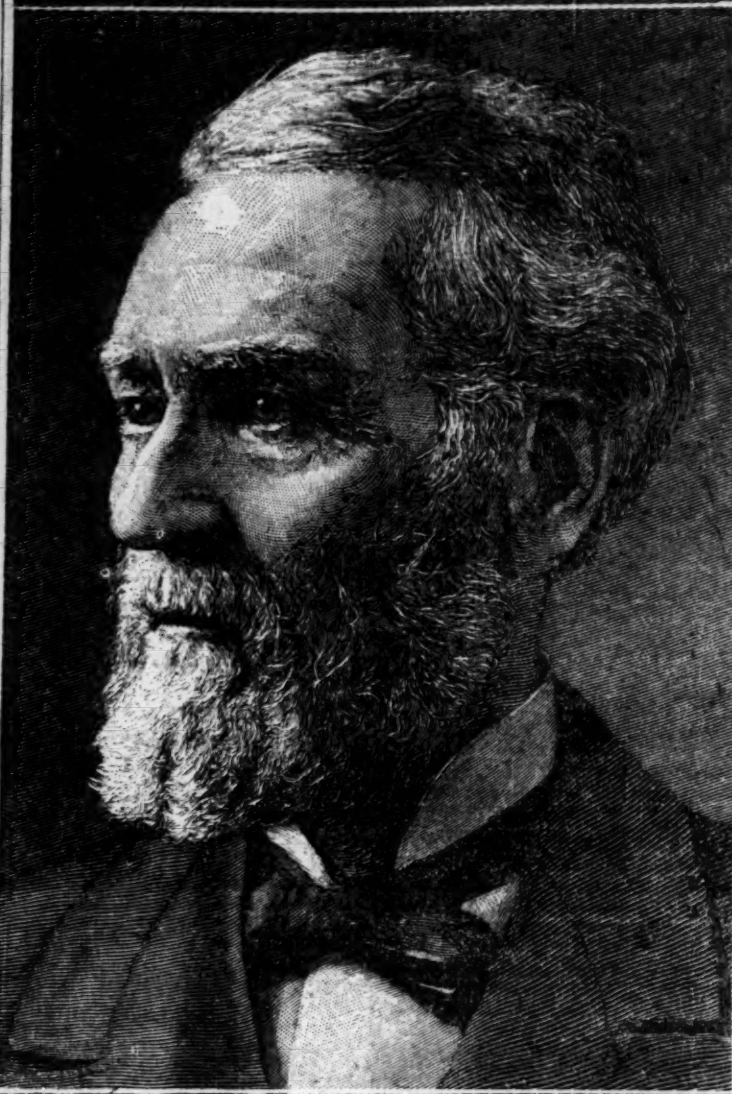

Some differences between the purposes and plans of the new school and the Joseph Pulitzer School of Journalism of Columbia university were pointed out by the speaker, who said: "Perhaps there is an impropriety in my seeming to criticize that great school, but if there is it will be extenuated by the fact that they won't care what I say about them."

Again there was a shout from those who have detected a certain condescension in the attitude of our eastern colleagues. The gist of Mr. Patterson's point was that the new school did not, among other things, propose to rear reporters who if you sent them out to get a photograph of a prominent safe-blower came back with a three column article on the industrial situation in New Jersey.

Brisbane Gives Views.

Mr. Brisbane followed. He said the question of the evening

CAREER INSPIRES SCHOOL

JOSEPH MEDILL.

was "If newspaper work is worth while, can it be taught?"

He believes it can, but before he went into the question he paused to turn a very deft two-handed compliment to the lady in black who sat at President Scott's right, and to his predecessor on the platform.

"I now have an interesting sidelight on the theory you will find discussed in Galton's work on heredity—that is, that genius is inherited only through the daughters of a great man."

Then Mr. Brisbane bowed toward the lady and the audience laughed delightedly. It was very pretty to see and hear—it was done so deftly.

Epigrams by Brisbane.

Here are some of Mr. Brisbane's pithinesses:

"The newspaper is to a nation what the voice is to an individual."

"The individual without a voice is nothing. A nation without a voice is the prey of any conspiracy."

"Ladies and gentlemen, the American newspaper is the market square where 105,000,000 people gather every morning and evening."

"To see a thing clearly and to describe it simply—that is the reporter's task. What is the newspaper man's business? Seeing clearly, keeping his head, using judgment and feeling. If you see an execution, or a disaster, or cruelty or poverty and don't feel them, your reader won't feel with you. The danger for a newspaper man is that he will cease to feel. To be a good newspaper man you must always keep jumping in."

That prompted Mr. Brisbane to add that Steve Brodie did not jump off Brooklyn bridge, but dropped off a dummy and then rowed out to it.

The audience sighed. Edgar T. Cutter, chief of the central division of the Associated Press, then cordially read messages from Frank B. Noyes and other officials of the great news dispenser, and President Judson, speaking of the old days, said that in his first reportorial assignment he had tried to be humorous.

GIRL'S QUICK WIT AND PLUCK SAVE 4 IN AUTO CRASH

Goes Under Burning Car to Rescue Victims.

The quick wit and bravery of Miss Helen McLean, 18 years old, 2451 North

Lawndale avenue, saved two women and two men from possible death in an automobile accident yesterday.

Another man who was pinned beneath the burning car is believed to be dying.

Miss McLean was aided in her heroic work by her brother, Leo, a former soldier, who did some startling things on the Mexican border in 1913, chief of which was the losing of the field desk of Villa, the rebel leader.

The girl was sitting at the window of her home when she saw two automobiles collide at Lawndale avenue and Altgeld street. She called her father, Allan, her brother and her mother, and ran to the wreck.

Find Five in Wreckage.

She found William F. Tauber, 4815 Newport avenue, wealthy coal dealer, the driver of one of the automobiles, attempting to hold up the side of his car, which had overturned. Just as the McLeans arrived Tauber fell in a faint, letting the car drop, with two women and two men passengers beneath it. Tauber was pinned to the pavement.

Leo and his father raised the car slightly and Miss McLean pulled Tauber out. She then crawled beneath the wreckage, which was now aflame, and dragged to safety Mrs. Mayer Apfel, 3600 Fullerton avenue, Mrs. Ella B. Bartoli, 2623 North Kimball avenue, and the latter's husband, Andrew Bartoli, superintendent of the American Development company.

Firemen Take Out Third Man.

The third man, William Behrens, a real estate dealer, 3706 North Monticello avenue, was so tightly wedged in the debris they could not release him. The Shakespeare avenue police called truck No. 13 and squad No. 6 to assist.

At St. Elizabeth's hospital it was found that Behrens' skull had been fractured and it was believed he was internally injured. Physicians expressed doubt as to whether he would live. Mrs. Apfel's arm was broken and her face cut and bruised. Mrs. Bartoli suffered cuts and bruises, while her husband is believed to have been hurt internally.

Tauber is secretary and treasurer of the Max Tauber & Sons corporation, coal dealers. He suffered a broken nose and bruises.

The driver of the other car, William Burkhardt, 1510 North Kildare avenue, was not injured. He said Tauber did not see the approach of his car. He was not held.

Some lines—a very few—may run over into next week. But don't take any chances on that. There's one thing about this wind-up: everything left is choice, because we never have anything that isn't.

THE BANK OF KINDNESS

Draw a Check on It for the Unfortunate.

BY REV. G. A. MAC WHORTER.

Believing that the best way to check the spread of bolshevism is to keep alive the spirit of resistance among the thousands who are literally starving in nonbolshevistic Russia, the Princess Julia Cantacuzene, nee Grant, will arrive in Chicago next Sunday to inaugurate an appeal for funds for this highly important relief work.

The princess, who until her marriage was a Chicagoan, is chairman of the board of directors of the American central committee for Russian relief.

In accepting the invitation from the Chicago branch to make her visit she wrote:

"Moreover, the committee believes that bolshevism can best be stopped at its source. It can best be combated by patriotic Russians, but they must have help from the outside to be successful. If we can relieve the armies of the burden of feeding hundreds of thousands of helpless refugees their chance of establishing a stable government in Russia will be much greater."

"We have means of transportation already guaranteed, so that we can really reach the sufferers and volunteer distributing agents among the Red Cross and other workers already on the spot."

"We mean to spend the money which comes in as much as possible in the United States, so it will then be made to help both here and in Russia."

A campaign to raise funds for starving students in Europe has been started at Northwestern university. One phase of it includes a picture competition of faculty members. Co-eds have voted Prof. Franklin Bliss Snyder of the department of English the hand-somest man. Dr. Lynn Harold Hough, president emeritus, was awarded second place. Third place was accorded Mary Dean Potter, dean of women.

FARMS IN ERIN ARE BURNED BY CROWN FORCES

Force Residents to Watch Homes Destroyed.

BY JOHN LESTER.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1921, By The Chicago Tribune.)
DUBLIN, Feb. 8.—Reports from many parts of the counties of Galway, Limerick, and Tipperary say that many farm houses and crops were burned by the forces of the crown today. In some cases local residents were rounded up by the military and compelled to watch the conflagrations.

The king's messenger, traveling in an armored car to catch the Holyhead boat early today with dispatches for the government, was fired on and attacked with bombs. The military escort replied with machine guns and two civilians were wounded. Two previous attempts were made to capture the courier with messages for Premier Lloyd George.

Military Lorry Attacked.

A military lorry leaving Portobello barracks, Dublin, last night was immediately attacked. Hand grenades were thrown and attackers fired from the roadside. A sharp fight ensued until the lorry passed beyond range. The only known casualty was a little boy who was wounded.

Bank robberies are increasing in Ireland. Four black and tans are charged with raiding the Bank of Ireland at Dunmurry.

OPINION EXPECTED

BY JOHN STEELE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1921, By The Chicago Tribune.)
LONDON, Feb. 8.—A big Irish offensive, both political and "military," is expected with the opening of parliament next week. This view is held by high British officials with whom I discussed the situation this afternoon. All friends of Ireland, including laborites, liberals and young Tories, are planning a united parliamentary assault on the coalition government while demonstrations in Erin are looked for to convince Great Britain that country is not beaten.

At the same time the British are more hopeful than ever of an early settlement in Ireland. They see in the definite abandonment of the separation demands signs of returning sanity and are not worried at the continuance of attacks, which they believe will not end until a settlement is reached.

Such a settlement must be made in the first place with Ulster, and the British are delighted that section of the country has put the question up to the south of Ireland, which has been poisoning British political life for generations.

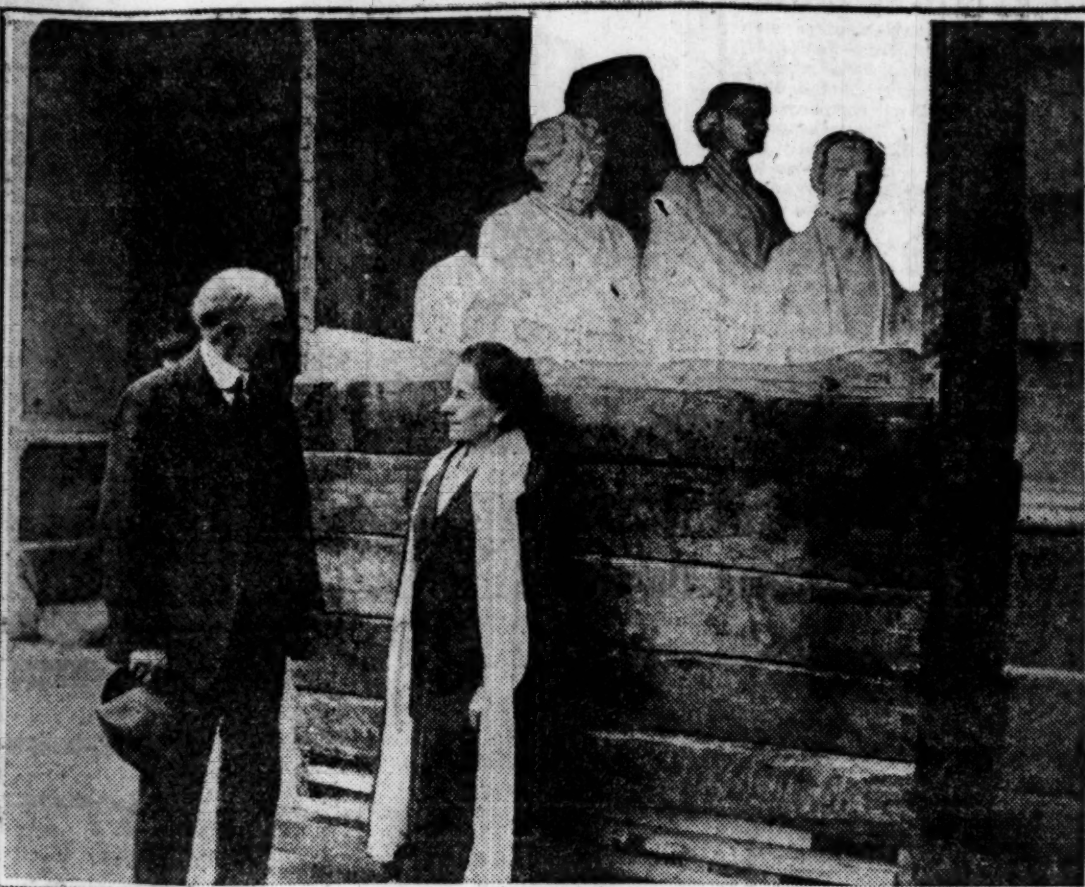

ENROLL CIVIL GUARD

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1921, By The Chicago Tribune.)
CORK, Feb. 8.—The military authorities at Cork have ordered all male civilians between the ages of 17 and 50 in various towns and villages west of Cork to form platoons of eighteen members each for civil guard work to prevent or give immediate notice of ambushes in their areas. If an attack on crown forces succeeds these guards will be held responsible. The military attempted to form such platoons today and arrested many who refused to obey the order.

No Insurance for Kansas Housewife Hurt on Job

Topeka, Kas., Feb. 7.—The bill in the Kansas legislature which provided the right of a housewife to claim damages for injuries sustained in performance of her domestic duties was killed today by the judiciary committee. The bill was killed because it would give a married woman the same right to collect damages from her husband as a woman to whom he was not married.

HENS, DUPED BY WEATHER, SMASH PRICE OF EGGS

Eleven Cent Reduction in Two Days.

With what produce dealers refer to as the "April crop" thrown on the market two months earlier than usual, egg prices in Chicago have dropped 11 cents a dozen in the last two days. There has been a reduction of 26 cents since Jan. 20.

In explanation of the spectacular tohogging of these prices, dealers said that hens have been misled by the mild weather. To them it has meant spring, and they have been doing their regular spring laying.

Supply is Doubled.

"The egg supply is more than double over what it usually is this time of the year," said Sol Westerfield, who conducts a grocery at 1409 West Madison street. "This, of course, has been due largely to the abnormally mild winter. Hens do not ordinarily start their heavy laying before late in March, or early April."

"But while this early 'harvest' is primarily responsible for the drop, there are other causes. The speculator in eggs, for instance, is not and has not been operating this season. He believes prices will go still lower, and he does not want to pay two months' storage on the eggs."

"Then consumption has fallen off. This, we are told, is due to unemployment. And there has been little or no export demand."

Eggs were selling yesterday as low as 47 cents a dozen.

Other Commodities Fall.

Other commodities have registered sharp recent declines. Potatoes, sugar, and virtually all canned goods are among these. Mr. Westerfield said a comparative check on forty-five items showed a decrease of 30 per cent from prices of a year ago, and about 40 per cent from the peak prices of last June.

All meats, with one exception, are selling much under recent prices. The exception is poultry. There is scarcity of chickens, the leader in this line, because farmers refuse to kill the hen that "lays the golden egg."

RE-ELECTED 7TH TIME: DIES.

Mobile, Ala., Feb. 8.—The death at Barlow, Fla., last night of Representative Fred L. Bachman of Anniston, recently re-elected to the seventh time from the fourth Alabama district, was announced today. He went to Florida recently for his health.

An Affair of Art

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—[Special.]—The ambition of Miss Alice Paul and her cohorts in the National Woman's party to commemorate the achievement of the franchise by American women with a statue in the rotunda of the capitol is trembling on the brink of ruin.

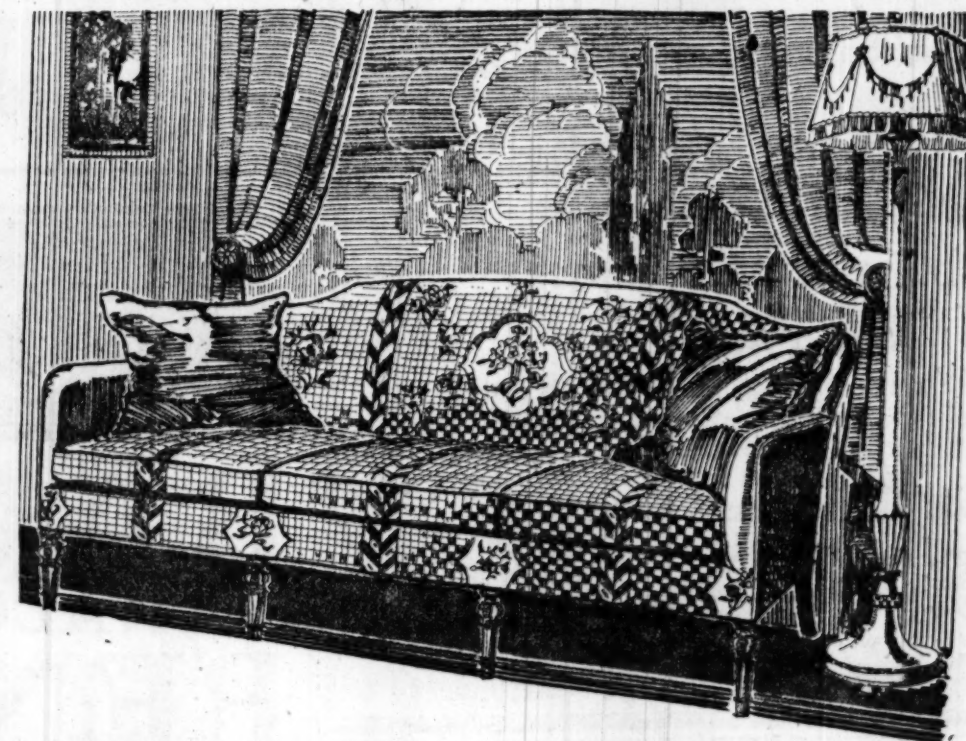

While all preparations have been made for impressive ceremonies of presentation of the statue to the capitol, the statue itself is in the capitol basement.

After viewing privately the finished product of Miss Adelaide Johnson's skill, which arrived here last Friday, the members of the senate library committee decided they were incapable of judging its artistic merits and have passed the matter up to the commission of fine arts.

Art critics have been perturbed at the strong impression it creates of three startled old ladies sitting in a bathtub, observed a member of the library committee.

Blast in School Kills Eight; Found to Be Accident

AMANDA THOMAS WINS TILT WITH MRS. T. P. SHONTS

Complaint of Widow Is Thrown Out of Court.

New York, Feb. 8.—[Special.]—Supreme Court Justice McAvoy granted a motion of former Supreme Court Justice Clarence J. Shearn today, to dismiss the complaint in the suit for $1,000,000 brought by Milla D. Shonts, widow of Theodore P. Shonts, against Amanda B. Thomas.

Mrs. Thomas was alleged to have been the affectionate of the late head of the Interborough Rapid Transit system. In her answer the defendant denied there had been any impropriety in her relations with Mr. Shonts.

She declared furthermore that she had not alienated the affections of the railroad man, but that said affections had been alienated by the acts and disposition of Mrs. Shonts herself.

She set forth that in 1917 Mrs. Shonts had given to Mrs. Thomas a release for a valuable consideration of any claims which Mrs. Shonts might hold against Mrs. Thomas.

Former Justice Shearn, in applying for the dismissal of the complaint, urged that Mrs. Thomas be freed from the necessity of going to trial in view of the fact that the reply of Mrs. Shonts to his client's answer had not disposed of Mrs. Thomas' positive assertions in her own defense.

In the decision Justice McAvoy said: "If the plaintiff wishes to assert duress and fraud in procuring both of the instruments now pleaded in bar of her claim, she ought to set forth facts which would make the claim appear plausible. The purely perfunctory practice of fraud, duress, and intimidation in hac verba is ominous with death of facts."

Moscow Reports Death of Prince Kropotkin There

LONDON, Feb. 8.—Moscow radio today says Prince Peter A. Kropotkin, Russian author and revolutionary leader, died in Moscow this morning.

Kropotkin, who was well known as a revolutionary leader, had been ill for some time. A report from Copenhagen last week said that he had died, but this later was denied.

J. BARLEYCORN CAN'T EVEN RIDE ACROSS DRY U. S.

No Caravan Route, Nebeker Rules.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—Transshipments of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes from one foreign country to another through the United States is prohibited by the national prohibition act, according to an opinion of Acting Attorney General Nebeker made public today.

"The national prohibition act," Mr. Nebeker declared, "applies to all the territory of the United States that is not otherwise excepted from its operation and extends to all waters within its territorial limits, including a marine league from the shore; within these waters the manufacture, sale, transportation, possession, etc., is prohibited."

Canal a Caravan Route.
Transportation of liquor through the Panama canal and on the Panama railroad, the acting attorney general said, was expressly excepted by congress from the terms of the prohibition act. New customs regulations will be drafted in accordance with the opinion, customs officials said tonight, as soon as study of the acting attorney general's interpretation of the law is completed. Strictly construed, they added, the opinion blockades American ports to ships with liquor aboard as well as prohibiting transshipments.

Diplomatic Tiptoe Safe.
Violation of the law, officials said, would render such liquor subject to seizure. However, it was suggested that the practice of sealing up while in port the liquor aboard foreign ships intended for the use of the crew might be extended to a cargo of liquor on a vessel merely putting in at an American port on a voyage between foreign ports.

Shipments of liquor to this country consigned to the diplomatic representatives of foreign nations, nevertheless, officials asserted, would not be interfered with by the customs officers.

Harding Plays Golf While Waiting for His Houseboat

Daytona, Fla., Feb. 8.—President Elect Harding spent today playing golf and renewing old acquaintances in Daytona, Seabreeze, and Ormond, while he waited for the houseboat Victoria to take him aboard here for the last leg of his vacation cruise along the Florida coast. Mr. Harding already is two days overdue at St. Augustine, which will be his headquarters during the remainder of February, but all conflicting engagements have been cancelled to permit him to complete his journey there.

SENATORS ASK COLBY FOR PLAN OF JAP TREATY

Johnson Leads Drive to Uphold Coast Law.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 8.—[Special.]—Impatient with the persistence with which the Wilson administration has ignored the senate in the land ownership and immigration negotiations with Japan, the foreign relations committee today called on Secretary Colby to submit the text of the Morris-Shidehara agreement.

Chairman Lodge immediately after the committee discussion of the situation dispatched a note to Mr. Colby requesting the agreement, "if not in complete conformity with the public interest." Pending the inevitable consultation with the president on the course to pursue, Mr. Colby was unable to say whether the document would be furnished to the committee. Perceiving a technical loophole of escape, the secretary said that there is no agreement, merely a memorandum submitted by Roland S. Morris, American ambassador to Japan, embodying conclusions from his conversations with Baron Shidehara, Japanese ambassador to the United States.

Memorandum Base of Treaty.
Inasmuch, however, as the Japanese ambassador forwarded to his government an identical memorandum, and as it was understood that the memorandum, if accepted by both governments, will form the basis of formal negotiations, it is regarded by senators as essentially an agreement.

The committee's request might also be refused as "incomplete with the public interest," a stereotyped phrase in all congressional resolutions of inquiry addressed to the administration; but in that event the president would be placed in the position of denying treaty information to the coordinate branch of the treaty making power. Still, Mr. Wilson has repeatedly demonstrated that he can endure, if he does not relish, such a situation.

Committee members do not conceal their intense disapproval of diplomatic negotiations conducted not only without consultation with the senate but toward an end completely at variance with what the senate conceivably would ratify.

Embarrassing Harding?
They know the terms of the Morris-Shidehara agreement in a general way, and they are convinced that the proposed treaty amendment guaranteeing civil rights to Japanese which would vitiate the Pacific coast land holding laws has not "a Chinaman's chance" of senate approval.

Some senators assert that the Wilson administration by means of these negotiations has succeeded in embarrassing the Harding administration. When, however, the Harding administration takes up the matter the Japanese will cite the Morris-Shidehara agreement as a concession made by the United States to the Japanese contention. Senator Lodge, on the contrary, thinks there will be no embarrassment involved.

Johnson on War Path.
The proposal to request submission of the agreement was made in the committee by Senator Johnson, California, who has been greatly aroused, as has his colleague, Senator Phelan, by the disposition of the administration to make concessions to Japan vitative of the California law prohibiting agricultural land holding by aliens ineligible to citizenship.

TYPES OF TWO NATIONS

IRENE Y. JAKOPICK, CROATIA; ADELE ROVIER, FRANCE.

Chicago's women war workers held a reunion last night, the occasion being an all nations ball at Arcadia hall, conducted by the All-American Girls' club. Members of the organization recently went on a visit to President Elect Harding. Costumes of every nation were worn at the ball. More than 500 couples were on the floor. The president of the club is Mrs. Elodie Desmyter, the secretary Miss Mae Powers. During the war the club members helped sell Liberty bonds and Red Cross subscriptions.

FATE OF NINE IN 'EXTORTION RING' IN JURY'S HANDS

The fate of nine former labor union officials, including one woman, on trial for the alleged terrorizing of South Chicago during the year 1919, was held in abeyance last night by Judge John J. Sullivan. He ordered the jury considering the case to continue its deliberations and return a verdict today. The jurors were unable to reach an agreement.

Those on trial are Thomas Vind, president of the South Chicago Trade and Labor assembly; Stanley Walczak, former business agent of the meat cutters' union; Edward J. Boatman and Orville K. Blevens, formerly joint business agents of the teamsters' union; Mrs. Emma Porter Pipes, former business agent of the waitresses' union, and four alleged "wreckers."

Specific charges of extortion were made by three brothers, James, Nick, and John Stamos, who testified they were compelled to give up $1,000 to get necessary supplies delivered to their restaurant. Joseph Altmeier of 2213 Commercial avenue testified that after a bomb was thrown at his door he became amenable to an invitation to join the union.

NEW IMPRESARIO, AGED 13, MAKES BOW WITH SHOW

Edson White Jr., 13 year old son of Edson White, vice president of Armour & Co., will be the manager, ticket taker, head usher, and stage director of an honest-to-goodness show in a regular theater this afternoon. And gosh how he dreads it!

He was advance agent and publicity man yesterday, hanging conspicuous posters in front of the Dearborn theater at 40 East Division street and calling up THE TRIBUNE. Watson Armour Jr., his partner in theatrical enterprises, was confined to his home at 1209 Lake Shore drive with a cold contracted during a week of preparation for today's event. Watson cooperated in the arrangements and the sale of $200 worth of tickets.

The revenue from the performance minus $20, the total expense, will go to the Hoover relief fund, young White stated. The films, musical talent and labor have been contributed. The performance will begin precisely at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, and the price of admission is 50 cents.

And, by the way, it is rather important that the nature of the program be mentioned. There are two featured moving picture stars. Guess who you can't miss. That's correct, Charles Chaplin and Douglas Fairbanks.

The boys at the Chicago Latin school, where Edson White Jr. and Watson Armour Jr. are pupils, promise to turn out en masse. But there is plenty of room for the public, the publicity director stated.

WHAT IS ART? GILCHRIST ECHO ANSWERS WHAT?

Artist Model's Divorce Case Ends in Draw.

At the end of six days spent in contemplation of the baffling question, "What is Art?" twelve jurymen decided yesterday that Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Gilchrist would have to compose their matrimonial difficulties without an answer.

After five hours of intense study of the seventeen bizarre paintings and photographs introduced into the evidence in an attempt to show that Mrs. Mary Charlotte Gilchrist was a "more daring model than a model wife," the jury ruled that, without passing on the justice of the former title, there was no evidence to dispute the latter.

Gilchrist, the writer, whose habit of eating candy and reading novels while reclining in the family bathtub was much talked of by the model's counsel, likewise received a clean bill of health as regards his wife's charge of cruelty.

Throw Bill Out of Court.
The jury's unique verdict virtually throws the divorce bill filed by Mrs. Gilchrist out of court. It also vindicates her of charges of undue friendship for a Milwaukee photographer, Carl Ruegge.

The fourteen daring photographs of Mrs. Gilchrist were brought from the jury room much worn late in the day. It was admitted they were the center of the jury's controversy. Some jurymen contended they were artistic. Others thought they were something else. "But that had nothing to do with the case," one of the jurors explained.

"I'm So Disappointed." "O, I'm so disappointed," Mrs. Gilchrist said. "I can't imagine how any one could decide that my husband was kind to me. His charges—phaw, any one could see there was nothing to them."

Gilchrist was not in court when the verdict was read. Attorney Harold Mulks, representing the artist's model, immediately made a motion for a new trial. Attorney Edward J. Bushkin, counsel for Gilchrist, made a like motion. They will argue the matter before Judge Sabath on Friday.

HAVE YOU FILED REPORT TO STATE? BETTER DO IT

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 8.—Thousands of Illinois corporations will be subject to severe penalty if they fail to file their annual report with the secretary of state before Feb. 28, Secretary Emerson declared today.

Penalties range upward from $21, according to Alvin C. Margrave, in charge of the corporation department in the secretary of state's office. Last year, he said, only 10,000 corporations were penalized $1,350 because it was two days late in filing its annual report. "Although blanks were mailed to the approximately 30,000 Illinois corporations on Jan. 15, as required by law, it appears at this time that less than 2 per cent have filed reports," Mr. Margrave said.

Do This For Constipation

THE public should know that there is a vast difference in the action of the various remedies for constipation. Some are "flushes," purges, cathartics. They gripe and weaken.

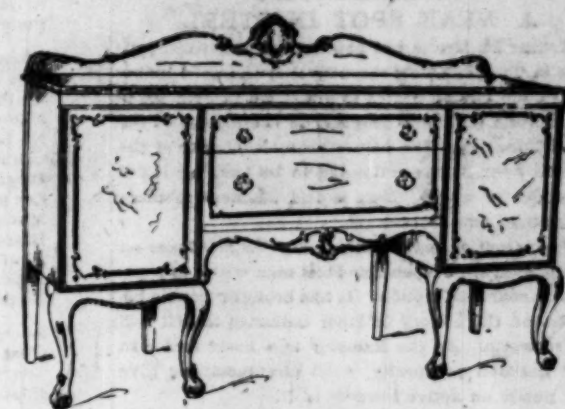

For lasting effect use a laxative. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin acts gently and mildly so that even a tiny baby can use it with safety. It is a compound of Epsom Salts and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics. A six-cent bottle will last an average family many months.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the most popular of all laxatives and more is used in American homes than any other. Last year eight million bottles were sold by druggists, the largest sale in the world.

TRY IT FREE

Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 512 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Everybody now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.

NEW SIDES TO CRIME.

For a half hour or so the other day a fog settled down upon a south side locality, coming in suddenly from the lake and making the section dark in the unexpected darkness four crimes against women were attempted, by different persons, it is thought, in each case.

Within the region affected, not an extensive one, there were present four persons of criminal or degenerate minds, ready to seize the suddenly presented opportunity for crime. The abruptness of the criminal phenomenon was a disturbing revelation of the moral constitution of the city, of its dark spots and recesses.

The criminal potentiality was revealed. If the fog had not come down on those streets there would have been nothing unusual in the human movements; there was darkness and an instant outbreak of animalism. There is an inclination to regard this as the product of elements newly introduced into city complexity.

Prohibition has increased sobriety and decreased certain crimes of violence. We can say that a great many persons previously unsteady are steady, but there also is a peculiar felineism developed. Its existence would not touch the general question of prohibition as a corrective, but it would explain startling crimes which seem lunatic.

Either a weak minded or violent tempered person may become crazed on vile poisonous liquor. It is the psychology of a drinker, having evaded the law and obtained liquor, to drink with abandon, almost with ferocity. Much of the liquor obtainable is frightful. When it is gulped down, the drinker becomes crazed. Many of the attacks on the police, if not most of them, in the instances in which policemen have been shot, have been committed by men crazed with alcohol.

When lumberjacks came out of the temperate life of the woods to the saloons of a lumber town their attack upon liquor and liquor's attack upon them produced the familiar spectacle of a frenzied mob of dangerous men.

This factor in the course of prohibition may be reduced, if not eliminated, in time, but the complete stoppage of the moonshiner is difficult, and the consequences may have to be reckoned with. That may be one explanation of peculiarly vicious crimes. Another may be found in the theory that where the army took in bad characters the necessary instruction in killing, in the use of force, made them worse. Pacifists would contend that it makes all men worse, but that is a folly which friends of the A. E. F. men do not need consider.

A great national army contains its percentage of the bad human material of the nation. When it is notoriously revealed it is eliminated. Under discipline it may not be revealed, and the instructions to kill, the opportunity to kill, and the possession of weapons to kill may be carried back into peaceful life by men originally vicious and now stimulated in viciousness and without restraint.

Where there is a new peculiarity in crime it may be logical to seek for an explanation in new elements in habit and in things affecting acts. We know that the two conditions touching people most profoundly were prohibition and war.

WHY NOT THE FIVE CENT FARE?

Gov. Small's new public utilities commission is reported to have started work auspiciously by suspending rate increase grants to three downstate utilities. It will be of special interest to Chicagoans to note that the three utilities were all railway systems.

That appears to remove the last argument against immediate action of the new commission toward restoring the 5 cent fare in Chicago. If it can uphold the pre-election promises of Gov. Small and his Chicago city hall supporters by reversing rate increases of downstate utilities, there is no logical reason why it should not do as much for Chicago.

The Lundin-Thompson organization, together with the rest of the Small cohorts, made utilities their chief campaign issue. They said the Lowden commission allowed rates which enriched the corporations and exploited the people. They said they would immediately correct this situation. In recent weeks that promise has been put aside in favor of the Thompson traction district plan. Numerous arguments have been offered against it. Now the commission indicates that the pledge can be kept. Good! Let us have the 5 cent fare now.

WHO PUT SUNBART BACK?

The city civil service commission plainly needs medical treatment. Its members are perhaps overworked, like so many other city employees. At any rate the Sunbart affair has disclosed several cases of amnesia which should be given attention.

Amnesia in nonmedical terms is loss or impairment of memory. Sunbart has been reinstated twice after dismissal for intoxication and insubordination. The latest incident was as recent as last October, but the commission has forgotten Sunbart, who sought his reinstatement and why the commission reinstated him.

Sunbart got roaring drunk and was found in a taxi with a white woman. He was flourishing his revolver and it was said it took two policemen to suppress him.

But Mr. Fraser and Mr. Geary of the civil service commission can't recall the case.

Does this imply that cases of drunkenness and violence are so common on the force that an offense like Sunbart's passes out of the commissioners' memories in the crowd of similar cases?

Are drunken Negro policemen given to flourishing revolvers in taxicabs with white women?

We hardly think so—not yet. Sunbart's offenses are not so common as to be lost in a few weeks or months by any normal memory. But they will become commoner if they continue to weigh so lightly on the consciences of officials sworn and paid to protect the public service from the unfit. The Sunbart case is uncommonly ugly in its implications. The decent people of Chicago would do well to ponder them. If the political and other tendencies it illustrates are not resisted Chicago will pay a heavy price some day for its negligence.

A WEAK SPOT IN STEEL.

Arthur M. Evans has pointed out in several articles in THE TRIBUNE recently that the steel industry of the United States is a laggard in both sociological and economic progress in the matter of the eight hour day. The industry's maintenance of a twelve hour day is estimated to be keeping 75,000 men out of work. That is bad business in more ways than one.

The situation emphasizes a short-sightedness on the part of the responsible steel men which is a potential source of trouble. It has brought trouble before, and the history of labor indicates that it will do so again. As the industry is a basic factor in our national prosperity, such circumstances give the public an active interest in it.

During the war, with its attendant labor shortage, the steel industry kept just one jump ahead of labor trouble by allowing wage increases at well chosen intervals. In those days it was inclined to do a great deal for labor. After the war it was just a shade more independent and labor trouble caught up with it. Now, with the labor situation entirely altered from war days, responsible steel men, as indeed men in some other lines of industry, are inclined to take vengeance for the bad hours they suffered when labor in general held the whip hand a couple of years or more ago. That is human, but it is not wise.

The steel industry does not need to try to crush union labor, because it is operated almost entirely on the open shop plan. Its future relations with labor therefore will be made easier, not more difficult, by concessions which indicate that it is actuated by a sense of justice and human progress rather than by force. It has an unequalled opportunity to make the change in its shift system now when enough skilled and unskilled steel workers are idle to fill up the extra shift. Its refusal to do so in the face of such changes in practically all industry, in the face of the popular recognition of the justice and economy of an eight hour day, and in the face of the certainty that some day it will have a battle on its hands if it does not make the change, is bad judgment.

The jobs are needed by 75,000 men. The purchasing power of those 75,000 men is needed by hundreds of retail dealers, and to some extent by hundreds of manufacturers. The stabilizing effect which employment of that number of men will have upon their communities is needed. The vicious influence of idleness for the men, and of hunger and want for their families, should be eliminated if possible. Surveys indicate that it is economically possible. Socially it is almost a necessity. It will make good citizens rather than radical riffraff. It is a move particularly worth while in the present period of industrial and economic depression in that it will not only help to relieve this situation, but it will help to prevent future troubles.

TEACHING THE RABBIT TO BE PEACEFUL.

Congressman Frank Mondell, Republican house leader, strongly urged the naval affairs committee to recommend that the United States lead the way in disarmament and lead the nations of the world out of militarism. Mr. Mondell said that if this was not done the fault would be the fault of the United States even as before it was the fault of Germany.

Mr. Mondell is enraptured in visions even as many other congressmen and many citizens eminently qualified to be in congress. The United States has never been in armament competitions and is not now. Its only military extravagance comes from people who do not see that navy building against Great Britain is a folly, useless where it is not dangerous.

The United States will not keep an army sufficient for its minimum needs. It will not keep one which can safely undertake the garrison work of possessions or be the nucleus of a defense force capable of expansion.

To suggest that the United States enable the rest of the world to throw off militarism by disarming itself is to urge a rabbit to preserve the peace in a den of wildcats.

The only service the United States can do for the peace and stability of the world is to press for a naval holiday which will stop competitive naval building and preserve the relations which now exist between seafaring peoples.

That, its great possible service of peace, is the very policy which cannot make headway in congress. Even Mondell, who might be expected to support it, muffs the ball because he wants not a holiday so much as he wants the United States to go it alone.

When we could get an agreement of nations he wants the United States to scrap its own strength without an agreement.

Editorial of the Day

A MAN OF ACTION.

(From the Daily Reporter.)

Fierly but refreshing. That's the way those statements made by Charles S. Dawes, Chicago banker, before the congressional subcommittee investigating A. E. F. expenditures abroad, might be termed. They were fiery because of the strong language used and refreshing because they told a story of the war that we believe the majority of congressmen in their constant hunt for political bunk have seldom, if ever, thought of. Dawes first of all is a man of action. He believes in using diplomacy when that will accomplish the desired results, but he's not afraid of strong armed action either if the latter is necessary in preference to diplomacy.

Dawes admitted frankly that A. E. F. expenditures were heavy, but he emphasized the fact that America wanted to win the war and it did win it and that this latter result was what counted most. In other words, he believed, and so did every other well souled, red blooded American, that it was results, not methods, that were needed most and he proceeded to get the results, so far as his particular job was concerned, in the quickest way possible.

Who is there who can truthfully say that Dawes followed the wrong course? He cut red tape, threw diplomacy to the winds, and went straight ahead buying this, that, and the other thing whenever the need arose to supply the men at the front, and gave no thought to the cost nor what was to become of the supplies afterward. The men at the front needed certain things and that was sufficient warrant for Dawes to act, and we should be thankful that he adopted that policy. Mr. Dawes, who, by the way, was Pershing's chief purchasing agent, struck a decidedly popular chord, whether congress realizes it or not, when he declared that the national legislators now engaged in checking up war expenditures and trying to put specks on America's war record, might better apply their time and attention to contentment waste in governmental affairs, waste far greater than any entailed through the operation of the nation's armed forces during the conflict.

AS THE GARY TIMES ANNOUNCES it both in the headlines and in the story below them, we must believe that the crime below there is really due to the "lack of unemployment."

MUCH has been written about Mr. Balfour in the last twelve months; and Mr. Balfour himself has published a book, a copy of which we are awaiting with more or less impatience.

Mr. Balfour is not considered a success as a statesman, because he has always considered politics merely a game; and Frank Harris once wrote that if A. B. had had to work for a living he might have been original though—whatever that may imply.

WHAT we have always marveled at is Balfour's capacity for mental detachment. In the first year of the war he found time to deliver, extempore, the Gifford lecture, and in the next year he published "The Heart of the Matter." It is a book of course, that he had a great gift for getting or allowing other people to do his work in the war council and the admiralty; but that does not entirely explain his brilliant mind.

"THERE is a fine old man," as one of our readers reported his Irish gardener as saying of A. B. "Did you know Mr. Balfour?" was asked. "Did I know him?" was the reply. "Didn't I help rot-ten-egg him in Manchester twenty-five years ago?"

"AW, COMON 'N TAKE A CHANCE."

Interlude.

Sir: Mid-year examinations are over, and speaking of the R. T. to L. galosh how they treaded it! Ask Riq, he knows. I have fled to the city, and reading on the mezzanine of Hotel "C" have tried to find out what then memory is a peevish minx, and I lay aside my book, "A Just and Seasonable Reprehension of Naked Breasts and Slaves." Written by a Great and Learned Papist and Translated by Edward Cooke Esquire, Master of Arts, With a Preface by Mr. Richard Baxter, printed in London for John Larkin at the Three Roses in Ludgate Street, 1678, to p. a. r., as Amariylla does when she p. a. m.—she has been doing it in mass for an hour at the head of the main staircase to my left. During the late unpleasantness I was indiscreet enough to ask for an original estimate of some of the results of Edgar Allan Poe's prodigious and brilliant and neurotic flammings, as Mr. Huneker neatly eulcises it.

"The Fall of the House of Usher," wrote Lucille like who like Lucille, the little friend told me in a loud, est flapping pair on the campus, "is interesting, but not altogether convincing. There is hardly any action until the end, and we do not really learn anything from the past eight chapters. It is too unreal. We must not judge Poe too severely, however, because his life was not wholly rational, and of course it is true that he has been called a madman. He was introduced to him in this course." ## How to Keep Well.

By Dr. W. A. Evans.

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit, or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitation, and where a stamped, addressed envelope is inclosed, Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease. Requests for such service cannot be answered.

(Copyright, 1921, By Dr. W. A. Evans.)

THAT DISEASE "SHINGLES."

"WILL you kindly, in the near future," M. L. B. writes, "give your readers a short article on shingles?"

"1. What is the cause?"

"2. What is its cure?"

"3. Is it a cold weather disease?"

"4. Is it infectious? If one member of a family has it, are others subject to infection?"

"5. Is frequent bathing apt to aggravate the trouble?"

Shingles is a form of neuralgia, generally of a nerve which runs parallel with a rib. The physician's name for it is herpes zoster, which means it is of the same family as the fever blisters which come around the mouth and nose. The pain of a shingle is all out of proportion to the size, depth, or location of the sore. This is because the trouble involves nerves capable of feeling pain. It, too, is a form of neuralgia.

Everybody has noticed that fever blisters accompany certain fevers, while they are rarely present in others. For instance, a crop of fever blisters is a frequent feature of pneumonia. In fact, some physicians are willing to make a diagnosis of pneumonia with pneumonia on the strength of fever blisters and a bad cold.

Some such infection is responsible for shingles, and in a large part of the cases the pneumococcus is the infecting germ. Instead of locating in the lung and causing pneumonia, it locates in the nerve and causes shingles. The appearance of the eruption is about that of a fever blister. The pain is that of a neuralgia. There may be fever, but that is not a prominent or important feature.

There are no rules for the prevention of shingles except those which apply to colds and other pneumococcus and streptococcus infections. It is a disease of all seasons. It is not infectious, contagious, or communicable. Cold, damp weather is somewhat provocative of all forms of neuralgia.

The treatment of shingles is symptomatic. The salicylates are of service in giving temporary relief to the pain. As with all other neuralgias, locally applied heat is the most agreeable. Simple ointments, such as ointment of zinc, of service as a local application. Anders gives the treatment as "protecting the vesicles from rupture and infection by a dressing." Drugs seem to have no effect in shortening the disease.

MAY BE HEART TROUBLE.

P. T. writes: "How can I cure short breathing? Often I feel weak after trying to catch my breath." It is too unreal. We must not judge Poe too severely, however, because his life was not wholly rational, and of course it is true that he has been called a madman. He was introduced to him in this course." THE TRIBUNE'S search for the most beautiful girl in the central west has furnished the topic for much debate.

There are those who predict that it will be a stenographer who will capture the grand prize of $10,000 in cash.

Perhaps a stenographer will be the winner over all in the greatest beauty contest ever conducted.

There are many beautiful stenographers in the cities of the central west, as the mails are proving daily.

But these same mails bring photographs of beautiful clerks and telephone operators and housekeepers and cashiers and students and home girls.

The girl in one occupation has just as good a chance as the girl in any other. In this—the greatest beauty contest ever conducted—IT WILL BE BEAUTY THAT COUNTS.

And it will be up to the three celebrated judges from the Art Institute to decide which girls, in their opinion, are the most beautiful.

It will be when these judges have spoken that the $50,000 will be distributed among sixty of the contestants.

Ten thousand dollars will go to the most beautiful girl in the states of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, and Wisconsin. In addition ten prizes will be distributed in each of six territorial divisions—the city of Chicago, the state of Illinois outside Chicago, the state of Indiana, the state of Iowa, the state of Michigan, and the state of Wisconsin.

The first prize in each of these divisions will be $1,000, the second $250, the third $100, and the remaining seven $50 each.

No photograph will be accepted after midnight Saturday, April 9.

The contest, now on in full swing, is open to every girl, unmarried or widow, who resides anywhere in the five states, except professional beauties.

Actresses or artists' models are barred.

It is absolutely free. There is no charge of any kind.

Note these rules and follow them carefully. Select a photograph of yourself or some girl friend and write plainly on the back of it the name, street address, and occupation of the entrant.

Don't forget to mention the girl's occupation. If not a working girl, state whether the contestant is a home girl or student.

Remember! Name, address, and occupation.

Send the photograph to "Beauty Contest," CHICAGO TRIBUNE, 7 South Dearborn street, Chicago.

Photographs will not be returned unless accompanied by a stamped and self-addressed envelope of proper size.

Does it make any difference if a girl is rich or poor? This question has been asked in a number of letters. It makes no difference whatsoever.

Nor does it make any difference where a girl lives, providing she lives in one of the five states included in the contest territory. She may live in an isolated hamlet. She may live in Chicago. The awards will go to the sixty most beautiful girls found in the central west.

But the photographs of contestants must be sent in. They will be published in THE TRIBUNE daily and in the rotogravure section on Sunday until the close of the contest.

If you know of a beautiful girl who has not yet sent in her photograph, see that she does so.

FIGHT TO RULE CIRCUIT BENCH TAKEN TO COURT

G. O. P. Control Issue in Suits.

Proceedings to determine with finality whether the Thompson or the Deane-Brundage forces control the Republican county committee were begun in the Circuit court yesterday. Involved in them is the question of which of the two Republican factions will have control of the circuit court this spring.

Three Suits Started.
Three suits, all in the form of quo warranto proceedings, were started by Mr. Brown.

The first and the principal proceedings are directed against the committee who were elected in the April primary a year ago as the new county committee. All except one of these men are members of the Thompson organization.

These men are asked to "answer by what warrant they claim to hold, have and use and exercise the offices, powers, functions, rights and duties of committee men" and to "show why the judgment of the court and order should not be entered against them."

The basis for the action against the men named is the contention that the decision of the supreme court in the Fox case formalized last October held that the entire primary election law of 1919, under which the committee men were elected was unconstitutional and void in its entirety.

Minor Questions Involved.
The secondary proceedings instituted by Mr. Brown attack the law constituting the county judge, the county clerk and the state's attorney as a reviewing board to pass upon the validity of judicial nominations. This law would place the question of determining which of the two Republican county committees was the legal one in the hands of the Thompson forces as state's attorney, county clerk and county judge.

The third suit started involves the right of Edward Linsinger to sit on the Republican county committee as a member of the fifth ward. Mr. Linsinger being now a resident of the twenty-first ward.

GEORGE B. ARNOLD TO RESIGN FROM SCHOOL BOARD TODAY

George B. Arnold will resign from the board of education at a meeting to be held this afternoon.

Mr. Arnold, who is chairman of the finance committee, will devote all of his time to his new duties as state director of labor, which position he was given by Gov. Small.

"My work as a member of the board of education has been pleasant and I hate to quit just as we were doing GEORGE B. ARNOLD big things for Chicago," said Mr. Arnold yesterday.

"I will live in Springfield so as to be near my work at the state house. Consequently, it would be hard for me and the other members of the board to continue my activities on the school board. Rather than be a non-attending member, I prefer to give up the work and concentrate my efforts on the new job."

Mr. Arnold will be the guest of honor at a farewell dinner given by the members of the School Engineers' union on Saturday evening, Feb. 26, in the Congress hotel. Gov. Small and Mayor Thompson are among those who have been invited to attend.

Four members of the city council are as good as reflected, the final list of candidates announced by the election board yesterday shows. None of the four have opponents. They are Ald. A. J. Cermak, Twelfth ward; Scott M. Hogan, Thirty-first ward; John P. Garner, Thirty-third ward, and John S. Clark, Thirty-fifth ward. The last three are city administration backers in the council. Garner and Hogan are Republicans and Clark is a Democrat. Cermak is an Independent Democrat.

In nine other wards contests for council seats will be decided Feb. 22 as there are only two candidates and consequently no supplementary election will be necessary. These wards and candidates are: First, Ald. Michael Kenna and George Hodge; second, Ald. L. B. Anderson and Ralph Henderson; eighth, Ross W. Woodhull and George W. Kohler; ninth, Ald. Guy Maddern and Charles V. Johnson; eighteenth, John J. Touhy and Harry Aldrich; nineteenth, Anthony D'Andrea and Ald. John Powers; twentieth, Henry L. Fick and Walter C. Hawthorne; twenty-first, Dorsey R. Crowe and Evar Anderson; twenty-fifth, Charles J. Kraft and E. I. Frankhauser.

The official list of candidates in the other wards are: Ward 3—John H. Johnst, Ira Solomon, and Edward D. Lowenthal; Ward 4—Walter J. Norkus, Timothy Hogan, and James J. O'Brien; Ward 5—Robert J. Mulcahy, Joseph B. Mc-

New Georgette Crepe Blouses

These blouses are among the most remarkable values ever offered in this section. And, too, they are among the smartest blouses seen for many a day. Women who are keen judges of quality and style will realize this instantly on seeing these blouses so

Greatly Underpriced at $6.50

Colors Are Unusually Lovely—

Almost endlessly varied. Every desired suit shade is included—navy blue, rich brown tones, the new henna shade, bisque and also black—and all the lighter shades for spring.

The number, large as it may seem, is, in view of the exceedingly low price, really limited. So early selection, while size and style assortments are complete, will be most profitable.

Fourth Floor, North.

The Styles Delightfully New—

All of the type called "overblouses" and so exactly what is wanted for spring suits and separate skirts. Unusual thought has been given to becoming necklines. Sleeves are in the smarter length.

Certain Most Charming New Taffeta Frocks Are $50

For women and misses.

Not often at the beginning of a season may frocks which bring so many desirable new fashions be chosen so

Unusually Low Priced

The silk is that lovely quality which makes taffeta so perfectly the fabric for spring.

There are "lingerie" touches of net or embroidery so freshening in dark-toned frocks. Unusual individuality is shown in their use. There are

In the woman's frock at the right. The eyelet embroidery further attests the newness of this frock. In black, brown or navy blue.

A Boutonniere and a Quaint "Bib" Collar

One notes on misses' frocks (sketched at the left) in black, brown or navy blue. A number of others, equally charming, are in this group. $50.

Fourth Floor, North and South.

Very Smart Black-and-White Plaid Skirts at $12.50

Straight, pleated and plaid. So read the spring-time fashions in separate skirts. And here in the skirt featured this fashion is at its best.

The very evident "difference" one always sees in skirts here is also noted in these, a fact that gives emphasis to the very low pricing.

New Silk Skirts Are $12.50 to $45
Other Wool Skirts Are $9.50 to $35

Fourth Floor, East.

Just From Japan— Babies' Silk Wrappers, $3.95

"Baby Buntings," $3.95—Afghans, $2.25

Typical of "pink and-white" babyhood are these downy little garments.

They've just come from Japan, a special importation making possible unusual savings.

They're Truly Extraordinary Values at These Prices.

Dainty in color, so carefully made and quilted by hand, and above all so practical, these little garments are chosen for use all year 'round.

At $2.25 Here Are Quilted Afghans

Just the most serviceable little robes imaginable. In pink and blue shades, as well as deep rose and Copenhagen blue. These lovely little garments and Afghans may also be had in dainty printed floral designs. Very low priced.

Wool Sweater Coats at $6.95

Seldom comes such a sale.

Only the most exceptional circumstance can bring such an occasion. In every particular, these are sweater coats superior to those found usually at this low pricing.

These sweater coats have a very definite place in feminine wardrobes. They are of soft wools, in artistic weave, and in the shades most preferred. So it is the perfect combination of quality and style which marks these sweater coats as remarkable.

MRS. LEHMANN ASKS COURT FOR $1,800 A MONTH

Needed to Support Family,
She Says.

Mrs. Casse M. Lehmann, divorced wife of Otto W. Lehmann, one of the owners of The Fair, yesterday told Judge Sabath she needed $1,800 a month to support her two daughters, Jean, 15 years old, and Casse, 11 years old, in the manner in which they were entitled to live. She was testifying in her suit against Mr. Lehmann for an increase of $1,000 a month in the amount allowed by her divorce decree for the support of her younger daughter, Casse.

Mr. Lehmann is now paying $400 a month alimony and $200 a month for the support of his daughter Casse. Both amounts were stipulated in the divorce decree. In addition he is voluntarily paying $200 a month for the support of his stepdaughter, Jean.

Tells of Kindness.
It was her former husband's kindness to the two children which made necessary for her to ask for an increase in the allowance, Mrs. Lehmann testified.

"He has always treated them both splendidly, not discriminating between them," she declared. "When they visit in two weeks out of every eight they are showered with gifts and luxuries. I have no fault to find on that score. I want to be able to give my younger child, who is an invalid, the same comforts, the same luxuries in my home in New York that she obtains when she visits her father. I maintain that it is fair that her life with me in New York should be as pleasant as the life she spends with her father in his home."

"My rent in New York was $2,800 a month until October of last year," added Mrs. Lehmann. "At that time it was raised to $4,200. I do not live in a fashionable neighborhood. The girls go to school. My expenses for last November amounted to $2,100. For December they were $1,859."

"Why do you not live in Chicago instead of New York?" Mrs. Lehmann was asked by her attorney, Benjamin Bachrach.

Asked to Leave City.
"I might live more cheaply here," was the reply, "but Mr. Lehmann asked me to live outside the city, saying that no doubt it would be embarrassing to both of us to meet at some social gathering or in some public place. I felt the same way and we decided that the east was the place in which to rear the girls."

The plaintiff testified that since the death of her former husband's mother, Mrs. Augusta Lehmann, his wealth had greatly increased.

Otto Lehmann was also a witness during the day. He testified that he had treated both his daughter and his stepdaughter as well as he could, not discriminating between them. He said that he had made them many gifts, but not with the intention of making them discontented while they were with their mother.

20th Delay Granted Man
Accused of Child Attack

Lawrence Thompson, 22 years old, whose trial on a charge of attacking a 10 year old girl was postponed yesterday for the twentieth time, is scheduled to appear for hearing today before Judge Thomas Taylor Jr. Members of the Women's Protective league who were in court to aid the prosecution protested against further delay. The case went over because Johnson's attorney was busy on another case.

BEWARE a shortage of sales—and of salesmen!

LAST YEAR you worried about shortages of material, and factory help—but not now! This year you face a shortage of customers, and possibly of salesmen! The supply of sales ability is limited.

MEN who can influence others; who can analyze men and conditions truly; who can bridge the human equation and make of their relations with men the sturdy structure that stands the transit of goods; who can create confidence and inspire vision; who can serve by selling are few in their generation. Such ability is uncommon; there is never enough of it to go 'round. Buy long on sales ability now and get a comfortable corner on this precious commodity before it gets scarce—as it is bound to be!

HOW can you get such men? First you must have opportunities in your business to attract salesmen of caliber; and second, you must tell them of the opportunities you have! The first depends upon you! For the second you can depend absolutely upon The Chicago Tribune. A Salesman Wanted Ad comes to the notice of thousands of Tribune readers, and among these thousands there must be a percentage of the men you want!

The Best Form of Building Contract

We do not recommend the exclusive use of any particular form of contract. Each has advantages, dependent upon conditions.

It is our business to construct your building in strict accordance with plans and specifications, using that form of contract which you and your architect consider most advantageous to your interests.

SWITZERLAND

To the thousands of Americans who will visit Europe this year, Switzerland, still smiling in the sunshine of lasting peace, extends a hearty welcome. There, in that miniature paradise amid an everchanging panorama of wondrous views, you will find recreation and rest—and the cost of living not appreciably increased.

You are invited to take advantage of our free information service, which includes useful travel literature. "Select Collection" free on receipt of ten cents to cover postage.

ROADS CONGRESS AND SHOW OPEN AT THE COLISEUM

5,000 Delegates Here to Boost Good Highways.

BY MORROW KRUM.

The annual national good roads association convention opened last night in the Coliseum. More than 5,000 delegates from various cities and road building associations registered. One hundred and forty-five exhibits were on display. It is expected that at least 10,000 delegates will have arrived by this evening when the reception for the road builders of the nation will be staged in the Coliseum. More than fifty of the country's largest cities will be represented by their mayors. The address of welcome will be made by Gov. Small, who will be followed by Mayor Thompson and M. J. Faherty, president of the American Road Builders' association.

Big Display at Coliseum.

At the Coliseum last night was displayed almost every modern road building machine. There were concrete mixers, enormous machines that clear the paths for the great cement blocks that follow patent and labor saving pavers, machines that make concrete blocks, clear the way, lay the road all at one time, and machines that test roads after construction has been completed. One mixer is twenty feet in height. It mixes concrete by the cubic yard and works at a speed that completes a mile of good hard concrete road every five days. Eight of these machines have been purchased, it is said, for Cook county roads.

Indian Chief Among Delegates.

Among the delegates to arrive was "White Cloud," an Indian chief from Hardin, Mont. The chief represents the chamber of commerce of his home town and he traveled to Chicago on a pony. Another was Mrs. J. C. Murphy, street commissioner of Yankton, S. D.

At 10 o'clock this morning the official opening of the convention will be held in the Coliseum. M. J. Faherty will open the meeting and then turn it over to Lt. Col. H. L. Bowley of the engineer corps of the United States army. The principal address of the day will be made by Thomas H. MacDonald, chief of the United States bureau of public roads, who will talk on "The National Highway Problem."

Naturalist's Life Work Offered to City Schools

Through an arrangement made by Prof. F. R. Moulton of the University of Chicago, secretary of the Society for Visual Education, with Dr. Frank M. Woodruff, curator of the Museum of Natural History of the Chicago Academy of Sciences, 2,000 stereopticon slides of animal, insect, and plant life will be placed at the disposal of the Chicago public schools and other educational institutions this week. The pictures represent practically the life work of Dr. Woodruff, who has spent more than thirty years photographing animals in their native haunts. The pictures will supplement the hundreds of movie films on natural history released through the society. Altogether, the society now has more than 15,000 lantern slides on natural history.

ABSURD!

Follies Girl Who Denies Millionaire Husband from Cleveland Has Left Her.

MRS. JESSIE REED CASWELL.

MRS. JESSIE REED CASWELL. Millions can never another true love. Jessie Reed, one of Mr. Ziegfeld's leading dancing girls, says so, despite rumors that her millionaire husband, Daniel O. Caswell of Cleveland, has gone back to the family estate after three months of wedded adventure.

"Absurd," said she last night. "They have talked about us a lot, but that can't come between us. Dan left me only last Thursday to go back and finish his studies at Yale. We decided that was best. I shall finish the season with the show. Of course, we're still in love and everything. Besides, his money isn't gone, as that Cleveland rumor claims."

And she gazed soulfully at his picture. Jessie and Dan met last fall on a train going from New York to Boston and a romantic flirtation ended in marriage after a four day courtship, according to her associates. It is said Caswell came into $500,000 of his patrimony about the same time. The couple came to Chicago and ran away from the show soon after it opened.

"We went out to Denver for a lark," Mrs. Caswell explained, "but the altitude was too high for me and we came back to Boston, where Mr. Ziegfeld found me. I went back to work and Dan has been with me until less than a week ago."

MOONEY WITNESS NOW TO RETRACT IDENTIFICATION

New York, Feb. 8.—Accompanied by a representative of Frank P. Walsh, to whom he made a confession of perjury as a witness against Thomas J. Mooney, convicted of the Preparedness day bomb explosion in San Francisco, July 22, 1916, John MacDonald of Trenton, N. J., will leave for the western city tomorrow to testify before the special grand jury investigating the case.

Mr. Walsh, who is counsel for Mooney, said he expected MacDonald's confession would lead to confessions of several police officers that Mooney was "framed."

At the trial, Mooney was "identified" by MacDonald as a man he had seen put a suit case on the sidewalk containing the bomb which caused the death of nine persons. MacDonald now charges, in the affidavit given to Mr. Walsh, that he testified at the instigation of District Attorney Charles H. Fickert, who prosecuted Mooney, and also to obtain a share of the $17,500 reward.

WOMEN SLEUTHS MUM ON QUEST FOR 'OIL WIZARD'

Mrs. Lauron F. Millar, 717 Cornelia avenue, and Mrs. Walter Niemann, 530 Aldine avenue, have returned to their homes after their trip to New York on the trail of Herman S. Abrams, promoter of the blue sky "Triumph Oil" company, in which their husbands unwisely invested.

Whether the women recovered the money given Abrams by Niemann and Millar is not known to the police. They are not at home to police and reporters. The scant facts at detective headquarters about the part they played in the search for Abrams, who left Chicago Jan. 20, after "fleeing" investors of $150,000, are these:

A day or so after they reached New York they called the Chicago detective bureau and reported having seen Abrams at the home of his wife's sister on Kelley street.

They checked out of the Aberdeen hotel last Saturday, and it was reported by the management they were returning to Chicago.

Upon reaching Chicago they notified the detective bureau of their arrival. A woman who said she was Mrs. Millar received a reporter at the apartment occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Lauron F. Millar in 717 Cornelia avenue yesterday. She declined to discuss the Abrams case. At the home of Mrs. Niemann was told that Mrs. Niemann was out of the city.

ILLINOIS HOUSE
GETS MEASURE ON BASEBALL FIXING

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 8.—(Special.)—Representative Norman G. Flagg of Madison county, across the Mississippi from St. Louis, today introduced a bill that grows out of the White Sox baseball scandal. It provides for two years in prison for both the giver and the taker of a bribe to throw a baseball game.

Representative Flagg said he had taken the bill from the floor of the Missouri legislature, said to represent the desire of the national commission.

TEXT OF FLAGG BILL

"A bill for an act to make bribery in the baseball profession a felony.

"Be it enacted by the people of the state of Illinois, represented in the general assembly:

"That any person who shall give or offer to give to any baseball player or employee in any wise connected with any baseball club or organization engaged in playing or causing to be played, games of baseball which the public, or any part thereof, are invited or permitted to witness, any money, property, or other thing of value for the purpose of inducing such player or employee to do any act or thing calculated or intended to win or lose any game of baseball played, or to be played, by or for such club or organization, and any person or player connected with such club or organization who shall accept or offer to accept any money, property, or other thing of value in consideration of his promise to do, or his doing, of any act or thing calculated or intended to cause such club to lose or win any game of baseball played, or to be played, by or for such club or organization, shall be adjudged guilty of a felony and on conviction shall receive punishment by imprisonment in the penitentiary for a term of not less than two years nor more than five years, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not less than six months."

YOST ANGLES FOR GAME WITH OHIO'S
GRID CONQUERORS

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 8.—With Michigan scheduled to meet California dual track and field meet at Berkeley in the spring, there is a possibility that the football eleven which humbled the State in the great intersectional contest on New Year's day, may come very far for a game this fall.

When the track meet was scheduled, Michigan asked the Golden State to come east for a game on Nov. California replied that it had had a game on that date and Director Barham has asked the California team to rearrange their schedule so a game can be played on the proposed day.

No answer has been received, although the request was made more than two weeks ago. The delay in answering is taken as evidence that Coach Ed Smith is trying to shift his lines for the eastern invasion.

Final Kid Skate Tests at Garfield Park Tomorrow

Weather permitting, final trials to select sixteen Chicago schoolboy skaters to meet a New York team in the star city on March 5 will be held tomorrow at Garfield park. Sixty-three boys have qualified for the tests as a result of the city-wide tourney, but only sixteen will be chosen for the trip. The trials, which are scheduled to start at 2 o'clock, cannot be held tomorrow, they will be decided on Saturday. After the team is selected it will settle down to train under instruction from local speed experts.

Golf Like Real Scotsmen

Ormond Beach, Fla., Feb. 8.—(Special.)—President Elect Harding today demonstrated that he will be the best golfer the White House ever housed. With Senator Edge the pair defeated Ambassador Fletcher and Dr. Albert Ely of New York at the Sea Breeze links. The president elect made the eighteen holes in 101, 51 out and 50 in. The Sea Breeze course is 6,127 yards long, bogey is 79, and par 71.

ARTIE HOFMAN
SEES SOX NEAR TOP
IN 1921 FLAG RACE

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

This prediction wouldn't be worth much except for the reason it came from Artie Hofman, a former big league baseball star, well known to every Chicago fan. The one-time "Circus Solly" outfielder of the Cubs, predicted yesterday that Kid Gleason's White Sox would finish in the first division of next season. When a fellow can figure a team to finish one, two, three, four, after being deprived of such stars as Buck Weaver, Eddie Cicotte, Hap Felsch, Claude Williams, Swede Risberg and Fred Mullin, and be willing to wager a stogie on it, it is worth talking about.

Of course Artie is more or less out of baseball now, but he can't forget. When Artie said yesterday that the Sox would be in the first division, he was met with a lot of difference of opinion, for there are many Chicago fans who will be quite satisfied if Kid Gleason beats out one team next season.

New Men to Turn Trick.

But Artie says the south siders will be ahead of at least four others. He bases his opinion largely upon the expected doings of one of the new men who will perform, Ernie Johnson.

"I know this Johnson was up with the Sox once before," Artie said, "but he is right at the height of his career now and he's so smart a ball player that he was manager of the Salt Lake club. I have seen him play and will say right now that he's a better shortstop than Risberg ever was or ever could be. Risberg has a wonderful arm, but he has to 'cock it' to throw. He has a lot of speed on his throw and gets his man, but he makes a tough play out of it for the catcher. Johnson is in position to shoot the ball across the diamond as soon as he gets it and has a big advantage.

Mulligan Will Be Star.

"Then don't forget about this boy Mulligan, who is likely to be the third baseman. I saw him play before when he was a raw kid, and realize that he fell down. But he has more natural ability than 90 per cent of the youngsters who come up and he's only 25 years old now. He wasn't ready before. I don't know anything about Sheskey, the new first baseman, but the records show he can pole the ball. If he can it will permit Gleason to use John Collins in the outfield, and every south side fan knows what John can do.

"Then the big thing is that Kid Gleason is manager of this bunch. You'll have to hunt awhile to find any other who can handle all the trouble and trials that come up during a season as well as the Kid can. He'll get all there is in those fellows and get it all through the season."

John Collins Signs Up.

It's pretty hard to figure the Sox as a first division club even for next year, but Artie says they'll be there, and from the Sox office yesterday it was announced that the signed contract of John Collins had been received. From the Sox office it was given out that the signed contract of Barney Friberg had arrived. Barney is a husky youth who may be making a mark for himself before another season has expired.

THE GUMPS—AND THE CLOCK IN THE STEEPLE STRUCK 2

NATIONAL LEAGUE SCHEDULE FOR 1921

CHICAGO'S CUBS fared well in the schedule of games for the coming season, having eleven Saturdays and fifteen Sundays on the home grounds, besides one Saturday and one Sunday on the road.				It was also noticeable that the Cubs were given two Polo grounds after the Giants during the season, one on the East coast, and one on Aug. 28, the last trip east.
Cincinnati Reds at the north side. On Memorial day the Cubs are booked in Pittsburgh, which is the best holiday city in the league. The Labor day double bill for the north side will be played at St. Louis.				Two games also were arranged for the "Cubs" men on Sunday on the May trip and one on the July trip.
				The Cubs will open at home on April 13 with the St. Louis Cardinals.

SUNBART GONE; CHIEF PREDICTS HE'LL STAY AWAY

Negro Policeman Accused of Attack Vanishes.

Jonas Sunbart, Negro policeman who is charged with threatening Mrs. Mary Ellen Burkhardt, a white woman, with death preceding an alleged attempt to attack her a week ago, has disappeared.

After reading the statement of Mrs. Burkhardt telling of the colored patrolman's actions on the night of Jan. 31, Chief of Police Fitzmorris predicted yesterday that Sunbart will not have the temerity to appear before the trial board.

Because policemen under the command of Capt. Max Danner of the Desplaines street station have been unable to find Sunbart to serve notice of the charges on him the date for the trial has been postponed from today until next Wednesday. If Sunbart does not appear at that time the trial will proceed ex parte.

No "Pull," Chief Declares.
Chief Fitzmorris said that no politicians have approached him in behalf of Sunbart, whose record shows two dismissals for drunkenness and as many reinstatements.

"What chance would politicians have in interfering in a case like this?" the chief asked.
Sunbart, through a relative, reported sick the day after his latest escapade when he entered Mrs. Burkhardt's home at 1472 Bryant place and told William Stoll, a rooming house keeper, to "take a walk."

Faces Two Charges.
Twice a sergeant of police and once a physician was sent to Sunbart's home to verify the report of his illness, but no trace of him was found. As a result he is also charged with absence without leave.

"He threatened me with death unless I followed his orders," Mrs. Burkhardt's statement says. "He called me unpeppable names and struck me several times before I escaped and telephoned to the police from a soft drink parlor at Lake street and St. Johns place."

After watching Sunbart leave the house Mrs. Burkhardt returned and found that her purse had been taken from a bureau drawer and $2 removed, her statement says.

ORDER SURVEY OF ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL SITE

Cyrus Thomas, an architect, has been engaged to make a survey of the Grant park site with a view to reporting on the kind of Roosevelt monument that should be erected there. It was announced yesterday at the annual meeting of the Roosevelt Memorial Association of Greater Chicago.

"When the plan committee has definite plans formulated," said William F. Carlson, executive secretary of the association, "it will appeal to the public for necessary money. We now have about $30,000; it is estimated we shall need about $70,000 more."

Drawing of specifications for the Roosevelt memorial, Mr. Carlson explained, are somewhat dependent upon development of plans of the south park commission for improvement of Grant park, particularly at Roosevelt road and the Field museum—the probable site of the monument.

Her Frock of White Organdie

IN view of the many occasions for which a White Frock is required, our Junior Section has procured a number of dainty Organdie Frocks. They are beautifully made, along girlish lines, as, for example, the two sketched. Fine Organdie of a permanent finish is used, and the price is very reasonable, $25.

Girls' Dresses, Fourth Floor, North, State.

Negligees Reflect Daintiness of the Boudoir

Silk Dressing Gowns and Sacques Are Specially Priced

WHETHER it be of satin charmeuse, taffeta or crepe Georgette, this season the Negligee is a thing of color and beauty. Some are graceful clinging affairs, others are shorter coat models. Then there are the most charming boudoir Sacques with trimming of dainty French flowers and two toned ribbon. All of these are included among the remarkable values offered in our Annual Sale.

Charmingly Trimmed with Frills and Furbelows

A fetching spray of French flowers provides a bit of delicate color to the charmeuse Negligee on the left. $32.50. A gay, festive thing is the crepe Georgette Sacque sketched in the center. It is tucked in squares with plaited ruffles, delightful little French flowers and two toned ribbon trimming it in an effective manner. $16.75. The Boudoir Coat on the right, of two toned satin, is indeed an unusual value for $12.75.

Fifth Floor, South, State.

Silk Bloomers and Petticoats, Special

BEFORE having the new frock or suit fitted, the foundation for it should be perfectly correct. Among the most important articles to consider is the Petticoat, or, if you prefer, the pair of Knickers. These must be cut so as to conform to the new silhouette and fashioned of soft, clinging fabric. The values presented in our Annual Sale are very exceptional and are lower than we have been able to offer for several seasons.

These Are Attractive and Very Reasonably Priced

The Milanese Jersey Petticoat in sketch on upper left has an accordion plaited flounce—$5.95. A heavy quality of service satin in white or flesh makes the Petticoat on right. It is effectively embroidered and an excellent value at $8.50.

In sketch at lower right is a radium taffeta Petticoat with effective embroidered trimming, $11.75, and long, heavy tricot Knickers with two toned combination cuff, $5.95.

Excellent Values in Tricot Silk

TRICOT Silk, well known for its durability and long wearing quality, is offered here at much lower prices than usual. This special Selling offers an opportunity for the Spring bride to effect a worth-while saving. She will do well to select while assortments are complete.

Tricot Silk Vests in bodice and regular shoulder in flesh, $2.95.
Tricot Silk Knickers, extra full, knee length, in flesh, $3.95.

Fifth Floor, South, State.

ETTELSON PUTS 5 CENT FARE UP TO LEGISLATURE

City Hall Forces Ready to Rush Program.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.
Springfield, Ill., Feb. 8.—[Special.]—Mayor Thompson's transportation district plan, which would raise the fare from 2 to 5 cents, is now before the legislature. The bill, introduced by Senator Eitelson, is expected to pass before the session adjourns.

There are important indications to believe that the mayor's bill is to drive through under forced steam. It is surmised that the real purpose is to break down all organized opposition and pass it through both houses during the coming two weeks.

May Reach Voters in April.
If it can command a two-thirds vote in each branch the question of creating the proposed transportation district in Chicago and suburbs could be submitted to the voters at the next election on April 5.

Administration leaders would not admit to deny that the policy is to get rapid fire action. That the Eitelson bill carries an emergency clause and is so formulated as to provide for the new commission to enter on its duties in May is considered vitally significant of the high speed program.

The Eitelson bill went to the committee of which the chairman is Senator Turnbaugh, Mount Carroll. The identical bill will be introduced in the house tomorrow morning, probably by Speaker Dahlberg.

Feb. 23 Is "Last Chance."
The Eitelson bill is identical that formulated by the mayor's local transportation commission and approved by the city council. It requires twenty days' notice of the meeting of the county judges and circuit judges in creating the boundaries of the proposed district, and then a call for the election twenty days preceding the date of the election, April 5, to become effective on May 1.

Plan, Trip to Capital.
Meanwhile, Mr. Jessurun and the league are making preparations to go to Springfield in behalf of anti-renting legislation. Mr. Jessurun will lead the renters' lobbyists.

In addition to a general anti-renting law, Mr. Jessurun said last night an additional demand will be made that leases with clauses protecting tenants from unfair obligations imposed by the landlords will be prohibited. "This is just as necessary as anti-renting laws," said Mr. Jessurun.

CHICAGO TO SHARE GALLI-CURCI WITH METROPOLITAN

Frieda Hempel Engaged for Next Season Here.

New York, Feb. 8.—[Special.]—The "inside" of the Galli-Curci deal with the Metropolitan Opera company and details of her plans for the future with the Chicago Opera company were learned tonight.

From unquestionable sources THE TRIBUNE's correspondent obtained the facts while a mass of "reports" and rumors and gossip are going the rounds, spurred along by the critical critics of New York and the operatic followers.

Here, in brief, is the situation: Galli-Curci's contract with the Metropolitan has been pending since last February, and was signed only last Saturday.

Miss Garden Knew of Plans.
Mary Garden knew Galli-Curci was offered the realization of her ambition—to sing at the Metropolitan at her own price—and congratulated her even before the contract was signed.

A contract is being drawn up and will be ready for the signatures of Mary Garden and Galli-Curci whereby Galli-Curci will carry out her desires, often expressed, and her promise to sing with the Chicago opera in Chicago.

When the contract is signed Mary Garden will issue a formal statement of congratulation to Galli-Curci and the Metropolitan. Until then Miss Garden will have nothing to say for publication.

The reason Galli-Curci did not sign with the Metropolitan when it was first offered her last February was because she wasn't offered enough money. She made the statement that she would not sign unless she got as much as Caruso—$25,000 a performance.

Highest Paid Woman Singer.
Her contract with the Metropolitan calls for eight engagements next February at a price between $20,000 and $25,000 for each performance. At that, she is the highest paid woman in the operatic world.

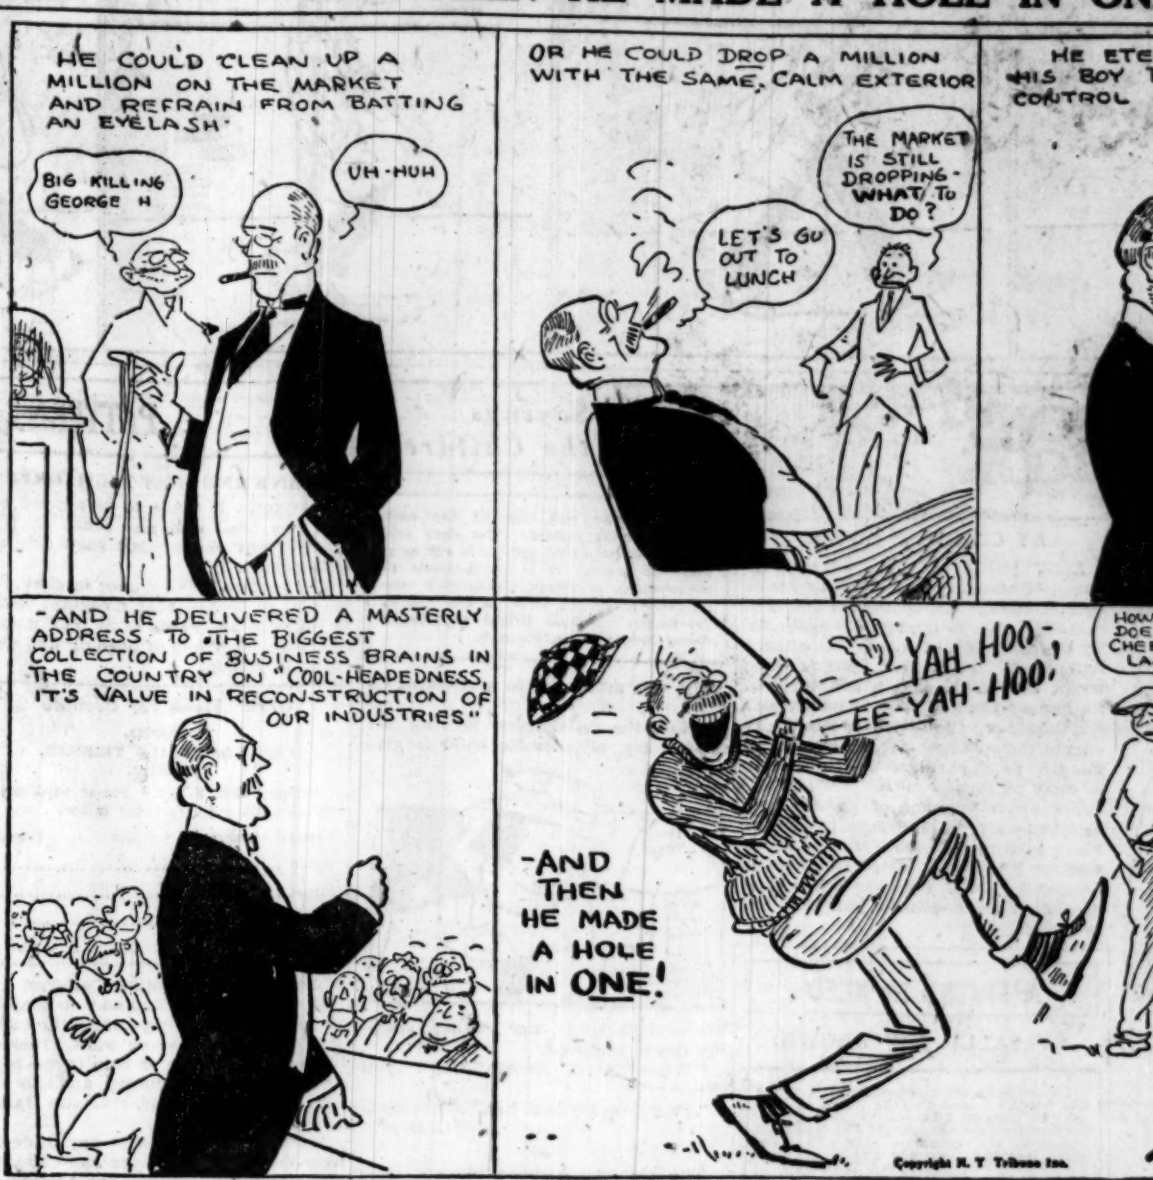

Many folk hereabouts tonight think that the signing of Galli-Curci by the Metropolitan is the beginning of the end of the Chicago company's invasion of the New York field. They admit that there's room for two opera companies.

They point to the fact that there are but four real stars—Galli-Curci, Mary Garden, Geraldine Farrar, and Caruso. Of the four, all but Mary Garden are with the Metropolitan as far as New York is concerned.

"How can Mary Garden replace Galli-Curci in the Chicago company in New York?" they ask. "Garden, unless she herself sings every night, cannot produce a singer of enough renown to keep the box of office man busy?" they ask.

Metropolitan Controls Own Field.
There is no opposition for the Metropolitan in New York, hereafter, they add.

ANTHRAX CASE HALTED BY DYES; MAY BE A CURE

Health Officers Try Out Compound.
An antiseptic preparation made from proflavine and acriflavine dyes is being used successfully under the supervision of the city health department in the treatment of Joseph Fritz, 1933 Maud avenue, an anthrax victim.

Several cases of anthrax, the bacterial disease spread by the hair of animals, have almost invariably proved fatal. In Fritz's case a large and malignant pustule appeared on the victim's cheek after he had used a cheap shaving brush.

The new preparation was compounded by a Chicago laboratory and turned over to the health department for trial. Dr. Martin Schuppman, a school health officer, treated Fritz with the preparation, making daily subcutaneous injections around the edge of the pustule.

Halts Spread of Disease.
Within forty-eight hours the effect of the preparation was apparent, according to Dr. Schuppman's report to the health department. The disease ceased spreading and new flesh began to replace that which was destroyed by the anthrax germs.

"Though the preparation is reported to have done wonders in this case, time alone will tell whether it is a cure cure for anthrax," Health Commissioner Robertson said. "Its value can be ascertained only by its repeated successful use."

Seven New Smallpox Cases.
Seven new cases of smallpox—six from the Auburn Park district—were reported yesterday, bringing the total number since Jan. 1 up to 106. One of yesterday's victims was Miss Clara Shuler, 19 years old, a teacher in the Englewood Christian school, which has been the center of the localized Auburn Park epidemic.

Other victims were Wilma and Jacob Bos, 7139 Aberdeen street, 2 and 4 years old, respectively; James Crout, 4 years old, 7326 South Green street; H. L. Freeze, 7207 Stewart avenue; John Echster, 7232 South Sangamon street; and Miss Edna Roehl, 7808 Avalon avenue, employed by the Monogram company, 202 South Clark street. The source of the latter case is unknown.

Four Women Elude Cops in 'House of 1,000 Doors'

Four women played hide and seek and escaped police who made a surprise raid on a "house of a thousand doors" at 806 West Monroe street yesterday. The women fled through a secret passageway to another building. The raiding squad shined up a telephone pole in the rear and dropped through a skylight.

The Inquiring Reporter Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.
Should women smoke in public?
Where Asked.
La Salle street, between Madison and Washington streets.

Martin Gottsdanker, 3337 South Michigan avenue, artist.—Yes, most emphatically. Women have every right that men have. In fact, they have more. Of course, I would hate to see a woman become a tobacco fiend, and I do not think the sight of them walking along the streets with cigarettes in their mouths, but that is their own affair.

Miss Anne Kennedy, 226 Flomont avenue, model.—No. I think it is vulgar. Women who really like to smoke are few, and I believe they can control their desires until they are in the privacy of their own homes or in cafes where smoking is permitted in a manner that is not offensive to other patrons.

Henry Kamp, 1733 Farwell avenue, manager.—No. A woman who smokes is an outcast. No respectable woman would smoke, and no right thinking mother would permit her daughter to smoke. Smoking with women anyway, is just a silly fad, like wearing those hideous open galoshes. If curbs were placed on some women they would become too silly to be tolerated.

Miss May Love, Hotel Sherman, actress.—Yes. A woman should smoke anywhere she pleases. Why should there be a different law for men and women? A woman can vote, and if she wants to smoke and the law prevents it, why, she can change the law, can't she? The age of prudery has passed. The man who usually criticizes a woman for smoking is the one who chews tobacco and makes a real nuisance of himself.

C. A. Freytag, 1901 Sheffield avenue, engineer.—If it's 1919, when I had my head up there at Fox Lake, I would say that I was up there practically the whole of 1920. She never was a trained nurse and that stuff about her nursing Meyer is all bunk. I don't know where she got those cruel charges she makes. I may contest the action. I haven't decided yet.

But I do mean to get custody of the children.

Coroner's Jury Asks Closer
Rooming House Inspection
A recommendation for closer inspection by the city of residences converted into rooming houses was made by a coroner's jury yesterday at the inquest into the death of Albin Bryant. Bryant was accidentally asphyxiated in a fire in a house at 359 Garfield avenue a few days ago.

WINTER ROMANCE AT SUMMER LAKE LANDS IN COURTS

Two Divorces Spout in Fox Lake Tangle.
The suspicions of Klumb B. Wilson, a mechanical engineer of Oak Park, were aroused when his wife remained at Fox Lake last fall long after the summer resorts were closed. They deepened in December when Mrs. Wilson filed a suit for divorce, alleging cruelty. They were confirmed late Monday night when Wilson, accompanied by deputy sheriffs, entered the home of Herman A. Meyer, owner of the largest boat building concern at Fox Lake, and found his wife and Meyer.

Both were arrested. Meyer pleaded he was recovering from an operation in a Waukegan hospital and was not able to be moved. Mrs. Wilson protested she had been nursing Meyer for a long time and that that explained her presence in the house. Both were allowed to remain after giving $500 cash bond each.

Mrs. Meyer Asks Divorce.
The arrests followed the filing of a divorce action in the Lake county court at Waukegan on Monday by Mrs. Meyer, naming Mrs. Wilson. She sets forth in her bill that her husband had subjected her to acts of cruelty for the reason, she believed, that he wanted to "get rid of her and marry another woman."

Wilson declared his wife returned after deserting him in December and kidnapped their two children, a boy, 4, and a girl, 6. He said he had seen the children only once since, and did not know what had become of them until about a week ago, when he traced them to the home of R. E. Thomas, 1076 North avenue, Waukegan. He watched the Thomas home, he said, and saw Meyer visit his wife there every day.

Never a Nurse, He Says.
"I first met this fellow Meyer in 1919, when I had my head up there at Fox Lake," Wilson said. "My wife was up there practically the whole of 1920. She never was a trained nurse and that stuff about her nursing Meyer is all bunk. I don't know where she got those cruel charges she makes. I may contest the action. I haven't decided yet."

But I do mean to get custody of the children.

WIFE FINDS HER HUSBAND PLANS TO WED; SUES HIM

Even though she filed a bill for separate maintenance yesterday in the superior court against Roy L. Willis, chemical engineer, Mrs. Martha Willis was emphatic last night in saying "I love him."

"You see," she explained, "I filed that bill not because I have quit loving my husband, but because I love him so much that I'm willing to stand a lot in order to make him realize how foolish he is acting."

"We were married in New York last March after a courtship that lasted several years. All went well until ten days ago. Then I discovered another woman had completed her marriage preparatory to marrying my husband."

"She is Mrs. Florence Dahl, a wealthy divorcee who lives in Ohio, and she loved my husband not knowing he had married me. Even when I told her about it she couldn't believe he had deceived her so. I don't understand him. Maybe this suit will wake him up."

The bill contains a letter written by Willis to his wife from Florida. "I am not coming back to Chicago to live, but will be there a couple of days after New Year's to close up my affairs," he wrote.

Mrs. Willis formerly lived at the Stratford hotel. She is now living with friends, according to her attorneys, Thurman, Hume and Kennedy.

'TRIANGLE GIRL' PLEADS CAUSE OF WIFE IN LETTERS

Notes Win Divorce for Detective's Spouse.

Strong as was the love of Gladys Williams of Boulder Junction, Wis., for Robert A. Haigh, a private detective, she pleaded with Haigh to "give his wife another chance." And even if he obtained a divorce, she wrote, he would play fair with his wife and not leave her if she needed him most.

Letters written by Miss Williams to Haigh won a decree of divorce yesterday for Mrs. Marie M. Brann Haigh of 1388 East Sixty-second street before Judge George Fred Rush. In addition, Donald Hubbard of 2928 Warren avenue told of seeing Haigh and Miss Williams in affectionate attitudes.

One of the letters introduced into the records by Attorney Miles Borchardt, in part, read as follows: "Here I am again with a heartache, even you can never understand. Perhaps in a moment of weakness and of longing for you, I may forget the promise I made."

"The letter then refers to a promise made to Mrs. Haigh. "Dear, I cannot understand a person who has not complete faith in a loved one. I can't understand jealousy in true love, and yet I believe that in her own way your wife loves you with all her heart."

"But, dear, I am writing this letter to plead her cause. You alone will know how much it's costing me to do it, but it's the only way I can make up for my broken promises to her. Won't you, for my sake, give her another chance?"

"Don't Leave Her Alone."
"Who knows? You may be able to find happiness with her. Jealousy, dear, is one of the greatest failings. If you are positive you can never be happy together, will you promise me this one thing—will you be sure everything is O. K.? Don't leave her alone when she needs you the most. I am pleading for her when I am wanting you with all my heart and soul, but I am trying to play fair. Think it over, and if you can, give her another chance and try to be content with the thought that in my heart I always will be yours. True love comes but once and is never forgotten."

Quotes Love Poetry.
In the letter are several stanzas of poetry. One, entitled "How Shall I Love You?" is as follows: "How shall I love you? I dream and plan all day, dear, of a tender, purer, sweeter love. Songs I couldn't sing to you."

"These cannot tell of the love in my heart! How shall I love you, heart of my heart!"

Another stanza reads: "This world that we're living in is mighty hard to beat; There's a thorn for every rose, but, see, 'Ain't the roses sweet?"

In another letter Miss Williams writes that "she gambled with happiness as the stake and is willing to pay the price."

11 POLICE BLUE
FLIVERS ASKED
BY THE CHIEF
Eleven flivvers, painted police blue and manned by ten uniformed policemen, will soon be scampering through the eleven most populous police precincts day and night if Chief of Police Fitzmorris' plans are O. K'd by the finance committee.

A survey has shown the police department motor apparatus is in "terrible shape," according to the chief. Last year $2,000 was spent in repairs on one Ford, the chief's survey showed. He announced he will ask that the twenty-five flivvers now in use be sold as junk and that eleven new Fords and six high powered cars be purchased at once.

"Joy riding in police flivvers must stop," the chief said. "There are to be other uses for these cars than taking the captain home to dinner from now on."

The six larger cars are to be manned by detectives with shotguns. The chief has asked for an appropriation of $75,000 to begin replacing all police motor apparatus now in use. The "youngest" patrol wagon on the force was built at the police shops in 1915.

GERMAN CLASSES TO BE RESUMED IN HIGH SCHOOLS

Reopening of high school classes for the study of the German language was authorized yesterday by Supt. Mortenson in a bulletin sent to principals. The classes must enroll a certain number of pupils before teachers will be provided.

"German has the same standing in the high schools as any other modern language," reads Mr. Mortenson's communication. "Classes should be organized whenever the required number of pupils elects this study. Principals are authorized to use some discretion in opening classes in German where conditions seem to justify it."

The teaching of German was abandoned in the high schools after the United States entered the war.

FIRST STEEL CUT IS MADE BELOW U. S. PRICE LEVEL

New York, Feb. 8.—There is a strong feeling in the financial district that the day is not far distant when an open market for steel products will be witnessed. Up to the present time the belief has prevailed that no open cuts in prices could be looked for as long as steel wages continued at their current level. There is a possibility price reductions may come first.

What has given rise to the open market belief is the report that Midvale Steel and Ordnance has cut its prices for shapes, bars, and plates ranging approximately from $2 to $8 per short ton below the Steel corporation's level, which is the level fixed at the federal industrial board conference. The price quoted by the Midvale for these mentioned products is $22.50 per 100 pounds, which, on a gross ton basis, is calculated to fix the price at $50.40 per ton, as compared with the Steel corporation's price of $58.24 for plates, $54.88 for shapes, and $52.64 for bars.

According to some quarters, it is possible this action may force the hand of other independents and of the Steel corporation as well.

MISSOURIAN BUYS SPENCER HOTEL FOR $225,000

BY AL CHASE.

Out of town capital—especially from the south and southwest—continues to seek Chicago real estate as an investment. Yesterday's contribution to this activity was the purchase by Peter S. Erickson of St. Louis, who plans to make this city his base of the three-story Spencer apartment hotel at the northeast corner of Garfield boulevard and Prairie avenue from Marshall Smith for an indicated $225,000, subject to a first mortgage of $100,000 and a $50,000 second mortgage. William Hughes was broker.

The property fronts 170 feet on the boulevard and 76 feet on Prairie. It contains fifty-four furnished apartments of one and two rooms and nine

The six flat building at 124-26 North Hamlin avenue, lot 50x109, has been set by De Forrest A. Matteson to John J. Driscoll at a reported $40,000, subject to $13,000. The buyer made the five new bungalows at 1425 46 North Central Park avenue, valued at $40,000, and subject to $17,500. Walter A. Conran & Co. represented all parties.

Henry P. Wardwell has purchased from Fred L. Meckel the eleven room residence at 124-26 North Park boulevard, lot 50x109, through James J. Parker & Co. for a reported $27,000.

People's Life Insurance.

C. M. Galea, Ill.—The surplus of the People's Life Insurance Company had shrunk to $224 at the end of 1920. Its actual methods are sound, but its income methods are not. The surplus up to that time. The Illinois Insurance department reported in May, 1921, that the surplus of the company was $6,000,000, an increase of about $1,000,000 over the previous year. The company's equity in the property, however, is higher.

The report for 1920 is not yet available.

Simmons Company.

W. S. Mount Carroll, Ill.—The Simmons company was formed in 1915 to capital for business which needed reported at $2,000,000 in 1919, and surplus at the end of that year was $6,000,
an increase of about $1,000,000 over the previous year. The company's equity in the property, however, is higher.

The report for 1920 is not yet available.

Brief Answers.

S.—The American Shipbuilding company carried a 3% rate on common stock in the year ended June 30 last, compared with 4% in the year before.
As its record of earnings before the war was poor, the stock is not yet rated as a seasoned dividend payer.

S. C.—A "corporation" located in Illinois and organized under the "law of the United States" is a legal entity.
A partnership. Ownership of shares would carry liability for all the debts.
